Post-Prison Information On Fay Is Sought

Racketeer Has 'Associations' With Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor racketeer Joeey Fay faces quizzing today on any dealings he has had with labor unions since his release from prison.

Fay, convicted of extortion, was paroled from Sing Sing Prison in 1956 on terms which forbid him to engage in union affairs. He formerly was an international vice president of the Operating Engineers Union, which is under investigation by the Senate Rackets Committee.

Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Fay has "current business associations" with the union and its top officials. Kennedy said he understood they were approved by Fay's parole officer, but wants to get the answer from Fay.

Tough Guys
Fay testified yesterday he knew nothing about the millions of dollars that allegedly disappeared from funds of the union's big Philadelphia Local 542 while he and his lieutenants ran it.

"At no time I visited that union did I ever have any goons or bodyguards or tough guys at any time," he said. This was in denying accusations that those who challenged his rule of the local had been beaten and kicked unmercifully by hired thugs.

Fay acknowledged he has been drawing a $12,600-a-year pension from the union's Local 825 in Newark, N. J., since his release from prison.

Kennedy told Fay it looked like a salary after the witness acknowledged he never had contributed to any specific pension fund before starting his eight-year prison term.

Fay said he has been connected since his prison days, with the International Excavating Co., address unstated, which has a contract with the Operating Engineers union. He said he also is an auto salesman with a firm which

Helicopter Used By Ike En Route To Attend Funeral

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flew by helicopter from the White House to National Airport today for his trip to Kansas City, Mo., to attend the funeral of his older brother, Arthur. It was Eisenhower's first use of the new service for such a short hop.

Larger Craft
The flight ended Eisenhower to jump over the heavy early morning traffic between the executive mansion and the airport on the Virginia side of the Potomac River.

Secret Service agents flew ahead in an Army helicopter. Eisenhower was aboard a larger Marine Corps craft.

The flight to the airport took 3½ minutes, and Eisenhower was off for Kansas City at 7:56 a.m. He first used the specially assigned whirlybird last year on an experimental basis in the practice Civil Defense alert in which top executives were evacuated from Washington.

His helicopter was flown today by Maj. V. D. Olson from the Marine Corps base at Quantico, Va.

Jet Training
In the Eisenhower party were press secretary James G. Hager and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, presidential physician.

Trace Footprints Of Missing Boy

WILLOWS, Calif. (AP)—Small footprints discovered in the snow raised hopes today that a 12-year-old Tenderfoot Boy Scout would be found alive in Mendocino National Forest. He has been missing since Saturday.

A football coach who joined the searching party of 600 died yesterday, apparently of a heart attack, while hunting through Grindstone Canyon with three friends.

The footprints were found about seven miles northwest of where Dennis Wurschmidt of Willows vanished while playing "capture the flag" with 11 other Scouts. A blizzard struck soon afterward, dumping three feet of snow in the area.

Girl Assaulted, Others Slashed At N. Y. School

NEW YORK (AP)—Another young girl was reported raped last night in a Brooklyn school as authorities strove to curb violence and disorders that have broken out around school premises.

A few hours before the latest rape case, two other Brooklyn girls were slashed with knives when they rebuffed the demands of drunken teen-agers for money. More than a score of youths have been arrested.

The new outrages came as the foreman of a special grand jury investigating crime in Brooklyn public schools suggested that parents have their children boycott schools where crime prevails.

Foreman A. George Golden made the suggestion at a jury session yesterday. About the same time, unknown to the jury, there were other repercussions of the problem—a school principal plunged to his death from the roof of his home.

Latest Victim
George Goldfarb, 55, principal of violence-ridden John Marshall Junior High School in Brooklyn, committed suicide, the district attorney's office ruled.

Tuesday night's sex assault was the second recently on 13-year-old girl students. The latest victim was attacked on a basement stairway of Public School 20 at about 8:20 p.m.

A patrolman, who heard her screams, seized the alleged attacker, Pete White, 16, a student.

Solons Doubt Accuracy Of Ike's Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two senators said today efforts to raise the national debt limit may be made easier by senatorial doubts over the accuracy of President Eisenhower's budget estimates.

Sen. Edward Martin (Pa.), senior Republican on the finance committee, said many senators fear the revenue will be less and spending higher than Eisenhower predicted in his budget message to Congress.

He said Congress may force more spending than the administration has proposed.

Closed Session
Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), the committee chairman, said he would be more confident in the success of his proposal to limit the increase to three billion dollars if members of his committee trusted the budget figures.

The administration has asked, and the House has voted, a five billion dollar increase, to 280 billion dollars, in the debt limit through June 30, 1959.

A compromise plan to include the five billion increase but to limit it to about a year, giving Congress a chance to extend it early next January if necessary, was discussed by the GOP Senate Policy Committee at a closed session yesterday.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), the Republican floor leader, said he believed the administration had made a substantial case for his proposal.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), a committee member, told a reporter he was inclined at this time to go along with the five billion request.

TEA LIKE A KISS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A detailed picture of life in Russia—how its people work, live, eat and play—has been given to Congress by Sen. Ellender (D-La.).

Ellender's account is contained in a 350-page printed document reporting on his travels last fall. The 50-page section on Russia, written from his day-by-day notes, is a highly entertaining account of what he saw, did and said there.

Food Good
Some samples:
At Irkutsk he visited a tea packing plant and talked with group of tea testers, a woman who "seemed to know her teas."
"She confidentially gave me the qualities of a cup of good tea—tea should be like a kiss—strong, hot and sweet," wrote Ellender.

New Demands On Dulles For Baghdad Aid

Explains Again Hands Tied By Congress

ANKARA, Turkey (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles ran into new demands for economic aid from the Baghdad Pact nations today but his hands were partly tied by Congress and by prior commitments.

The United States was faced with the problem of meeting Soviet economic penetration of the neutralist countries in the Middle East with enough aid to keep its allies satisfied.

Tough Problem
But unlike the Soviets, the United States cannot commit itself to aid programs years in advance because it needs congressional approval. Dulles, in his opening speech Monday, made no promises, but American sources said he left the way open for some aid.

The tough problem of economic development was the No. 1 item on the program when the ministers met today in the Turkish Parliament building.

The administration asked 625 million dollars for economic development abroad for the fiscal year beginning July 1—and this must serve for worldwide loans. To qualify, the projects must give reasonable assurance the loans carry 3½ per cent interest repayable up to 50 years.

So far the United States has given $1,300,000,000 in economic aid to the four Moslem nations members of the Baghdad Pact above military equipment since 1947. In addition, it has promised $12,500,000 for economic development—including such projects as better telecommunications and a road and rail links. All of this has not yet been spent.

Britain promised another million for a joint communications project and one million for economic aid.

Real McCoy
The West Monroe Lions club is considering ways and means of having a large painting of an African lion shipped to West Monroe. A club member, Capt. Lamar Kennedy, now on active duty in North Africa, has reported that he has secured the painting for the club but is having trouble in arranging shipment due to the large size of the painting. The club now has under consideration a plan to have it shipped at the club's expense.

Mine Cave-In Kills 4 Men
ROUNDUP, Mont. (AP)—A nine cave-in crushed four men to death beneath an estimated 15 tons of rock late yesterday. Six others escaped injury.

The tragedy occurred inside the horizontal tunnel of the Mountain Queen mine about 22 miles east of here. The mine is leased to the Atomic Energy Commission plant at Hanford, Wash.

An investigation was started immediately by federal, state and union officials.

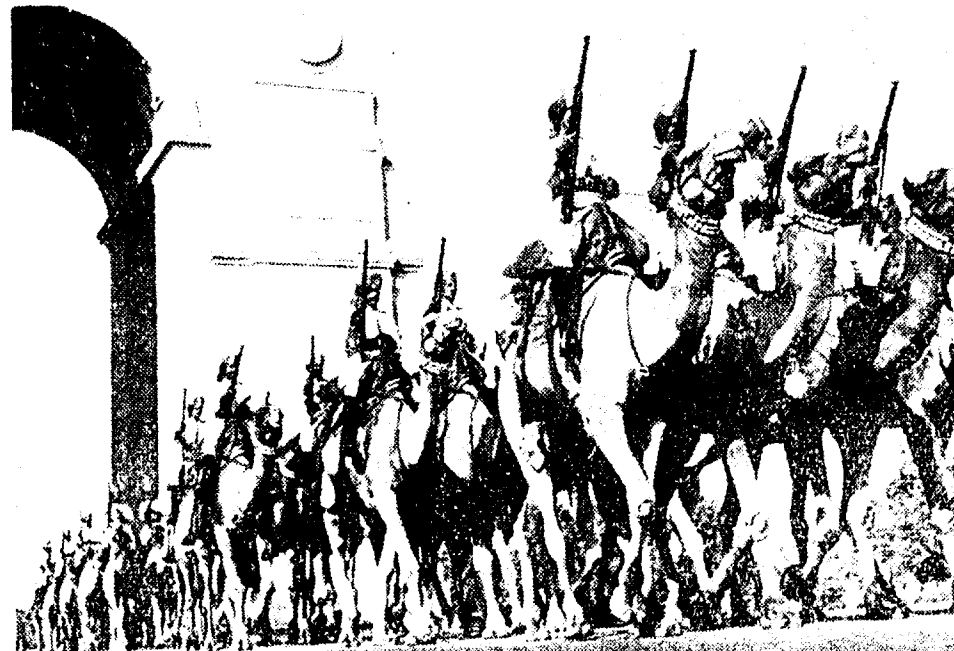

One of those narrowly missed by the thundering rockfall was Jack Boyle of Roundup, president of the Mountain States Mining Co., which owns the mine.

But the rock killed Martin Mezmarich, 54; Frank Nos., 45; Jim Molnar, 48; and George Larson, about 50, all of Roundup. It required five hours to recover their bodies.

New Powers Planned For Defense Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Greatly increased authority for the secretary of defense reportedly is included in the administration's preliminary planning for Pentagon reorganization.

Authoritative sources said the tentative recommendations would give Secretary McElroy broad new powers to control military spending.

This would be in line with one of the proposals made to the Senate Preparedness subcommittee by retired Gen. Lucius Clay, long-time adviser and close personal friend of President Eisenhower.

Joint Chiefs
Clay, a member of the Rockefeller study committee which recommended defense reorganization recently, said the secretary now has "practically no control" over money Congress makes available to individual services. He said McElroy could cancel a missile project he found unfeasible, but could not use the funds to finance a more promising missile project under development by another service.

Clay also recommended a single military command, with the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff being given authority to assign roles and missions to the individual services.

There has been criticism in Congress of the dual role of three of the Joint Chiefs, who are responsible for operating individual services while being called upon to do over-all military planning. Only the chairman, who has no vote, is free of direct links and operational responsibilities.

In testimony released this week, however, McElroy said the Joint Chiefs of Staff are doing a good job of military planning for both short- and long-range emergencies.

Partly Cloudy Skies Forecast
Partly cloudy and warmer tomorrow was the weatherman's forecast in this part of the state today.

The mercury may drop during the night, but higher readings seem fairly certain for tomorrow. Yesterday's high was 54 with a low of 32, according to the civil aeronautics communications station at Selman Field.

Approximately 13 inches of rain fell on the city during the late afternoon and evening hours. Today's mid-morning temperature was 49 degrees.

No Spring, But Robins Aplenty

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—What's all this business about the robins being the first sign of spring? This has been as chilly a winter as anyone could wish for—and New Mexico is full of robins.

At least the valleys are full of them. Apparently the mountains are cold enough to drive them down at this time of year.

The game men say that though generally considered a migratory bird, robins sometimes don't go anywhere in the winter.

Why? The conservation people don't say. It may just be that the robins never read the bird books and don't know they are supposed to go South for the winter.

SHORTENS CONVALESCENCE

Passman Returns To Capitol Hill

Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman cut short his convalescence from a December 30 heart attack to fly to Washington today in order to throw his influence behind legislation aimed at aiding the farmer, particularly the cotton grower.

Passman said his doctors had urged "at least two more weeks" of rest at home, but he declared that with precautions, he felt he would be in no danger of a recurring attack. He was confined to a hospital here for about two weeks following the stroke, and returned to his office here recently.

Passman declared he would join next week in "full support" of a proposed cotton program which will "permit our farmers more freedom to produce."

Basic principles of the proposal, he said, include provision for a loan support program at about the current world price, an acreage allotment providing for production to meet the entire domestic and export demand, and an export subsidy "in kind" rather than in cash, to continue efforts to regain lost foreign markets.

Acreage Increased
The plan, Congressman Passman explained, contemplates an acreage allotment increase of about 20 per cent over this year's 17.3 million acres. Under the existing farm program, the cotton acreage allotment for next year would be reduced by about 25 per cent.

A high ranking member of the house appropriations committee, Congressman Passman also said that, while he will support appropriation of "every dime needed" for national defense, he does not intend to "go along with the general philosophy of spend, inflation and debt as the road to prosperity."

As chairman of the appropriations subcommittee handling the money bill for foreign aid, he declared himself "more convinced than ever" that there ought to be a "drastic cut" in foreign aid spending, rather than an increase.

"After handing out about 67 billion dollars in foreign aid since the end of World War II, the United States taxpayer is still the victim of glorified blackmail on the part of the world," he said.

MURDER, OH GOD! Hunted Brother 'Always Tough'

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—"Murder! Oh, God, I just don't know!" Those were the words of Rodney Starkweather, 21, as he tried to piece together the circumstances leading to "shoot to kill" orders against his 19-year-old brother, Charles, who was sought in connection with six slayings.

With his pregnant wife Barbara, 18, at his side, Rodney, a garbage and trash hauler, recalled a series of boyhood memories in an interview with United Press.

Always Tough
"Charlie always loved to fight," he said of his red-haired brother. "He really has a temper. But he could handle himself."

He always was tough. He once gave me a cauliflower ear."

But Charlie "always had a tough life," he added.

Weary Police Press Search For Young Pair

Speculation Is Raised About December Slaying

BENNETT, Neb. (AP)—Haggard, heavily armed officers began a fresh farm-by-farm search of the Bennett area today seeking clues that will help find a missing pair of teen-agers suspected of killing six persons, aged 3 to 70.

Although both were charged with murder today the urgency of the search was heightened by

Bulletin

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Police reported this afternoon three more persons have been found slain, bringing to nine the total killings uncovered in this area since Monday.

Lincoln police said the slayings of the three occurred at a residence in the south part of Lincoln. They identified the dead as Mr. and Mrs. C. Lauer Ward, and their maid. The wards were a prominent family.

Police said the three were killed by shotgun blasts.

Body Found
The fact that five of the six victims were shot in the head, and the sixth, a tiny girl, was clubbed to death, also led officers to speculate about a possible connection with the recent unsolved slaying of Robert G. Colvert, 21-year-old Lincoln service station operator. His body was found Dec. 1 on a gravel road near Lincoln. He was shot in the head with a shotgun. Police are investigating reports that Starkweather had loitered around the gas station.

Starkweather is a green-eyed, red-haired, 140-pounder, about 5 feet 5 inches tall, who walks with a swagger. He has no police record other than traffic violations, but is known to be an expert hunter and a crack shot. Carl Fugate, 14, is about 5 feet one

Mississippi Steps Up Campaign To Bar Integration

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Removal of the constitutional requirement for separate Negro and white schools is expected to be sought next by Mississippi legislators bent on preserving segregation.

A series of proposals introduced yesterday would, among other things, remove all state obligation to educate children and give school districts autonomous authority to abolish schools.

The idea is to take out of the 1890 constitution any clause that can be the basis for invalidation in federal courts, of segregation and school statutes.

"There won't be any dispute about any of them," said Rep. County, who is closely identified with the House leadership. "Any Thompson McClellan of Clay one opposing them would be signing his resignation from the Legislature. We're not going to have integration in Mississippi."

McClellan said he also expects no dispute on his bill to implement a 1954 constitutional amendment giving the Legislature authority to abolish schools.

T. T. Hargrove, 57, Mayor Of Newellton Dies

NEWELLTON (Special) — Tom Tate Hargrove, 57, mayor of Newellton and executive vice president of the Tensas State Bank, died early today in a local hospital following a cerebral stroke suffered about noon yesterday.

Mr. Hargrove had driven home from meeting of bank officials in Baton Rouge earlier in the day and had been at his desk in the bank about five minutes when he was stricken, friends said.

A native of Mississippi, Mr. Hargrove had been a resident of Newellton since 1924. He was a member of the Methodist Church, past president of the Newellton Rotary club, a member of the Masonic Lodge, a member of the Tensas parish school board and a member of the state parks commission.

Funeral services were scheduled for tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the Union Church at Newellton with the Rev. James Pool officiating. Burial will follow in Legion Memorial cemetery under the direction of Crothers Funeral Home of Tallulah.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Dell Poe Hargrove; one daughter, Mrs. Roy Young, Baton Rouge; two brothers, Marion V. Hargrove, Monroe, and Dudley Hargrove, Columbus, Miss.; and two grandchildren.

Pair Jailed In Gasoline Theft Near Calhoun

Two men are being held in the Ouachita parish jail charged with the theft of gasoline, Sheriff Bailey Grant said today. Both have reportedly admitted the theft.

Sheriff Grant identified the men as James C. Hamblin, 32, Detroit, Mich., and Ben Lee Miles, 29, Augusta, Ga.

Two deputy sheriffs, on routine patrol early today, reported seeing an automobile, bearing an out-of-state license, parked in Calhoun. A short distance down the road the two noticed a truck with a hose hanging from the gasoline tank opening. Checking the area, the deputies found the two men hiding in the bushes near the truck and charged them with the theft.

Also found near the parked truck were two cans, one filled with gasoline, and the other nearly empty.

The two men had met in Los Angeles, they told officers, and were en route to Augusta, Ga., when they were apprehended.

Both are being held in the parish jail in lieu of bonds, which have not been set.

Fay cited the terms of his parole as one reason why he could not check on "A" what happened to the missing millions, or "B" whether his wife had done any work for Local 323 while she was on its payroll all through his prison term as a $125 to $175 a week clerk. To ask such questions, he said, would "violate my trust."

Norris stated the city planning project would cover zoning within the city limits of West Monroe and extend outside the present lines "in certain cases."

The preliminary plans are subject to approval by both the West Monroe City Council and the Ouachita Parish Police Jury before a city planning commission may be appointed, Norris explained.

Girl Assaulted,

(Continued From First Page) death, Golden said the jurors will call in Board of Education officials to find out whether the principal had been under pressure or had been threatened with disciplinary action for reportedly telling the jurors last Thursday that he would like to have a policeman stationed inside his school.

The grand jury and Leibowitz favor stationing a policeman in every school in the city. This suggestion has been turned down by the Board of Education, School Supt. William Jansen and Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy.

In the new case, both White and his victim are Negro. White was arraigned before magistrate John R. Starkey, and held in $10,000 bail for a hearing Feb. 3 in adolescents court.

Of 21 school-age boys rounded up last night in the vicinity of the knife slayings, all but one are white.

Mayor Wagner, expressing shock, pledged action by City Hall. Simultaneously, police ordered more patrols at schools to cut down "potential rowdiness."

Golden's death came after he had been summoned before the grand jury probing school crime. He was due to appear again yesterday.

County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz promised to study the jury foreman's suggestion for school boycotts, which was made in the form of a question.

"Is there anything in the law that could prevent thousands of mothers and fathers from having their young children boycott the schools until something is done?" Golden asked.

Leibowitz said he will confer with Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver and report back to the grand jury.

FBI Enters
Lancaster County Atty. Elmer Scheele formally charged the pair with first degree murder today. He said the Federal Bureau of Investigation has entered the case and a federal warrant will be issued charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Countless reports flowed into Lincoln during the night and today of cars and couples who might be the wanted pair.

Scheele's complaint charged the two specifically with the slaying of Carol King, 16, one of two Bennett High School students found dead in an old storm cellar Tuesday afternoon.

Traveling in pairs through the night, officers made a house-by-house check of farms in the Bennett area without finding a trace of either of the hunted Lincoln teen-agers.

Armed farmers joined the search. Farm families spent a sleepless night behind locked doors.

Bennet, 16 miles southeast of Lincoln, is only about 30 miles from the Kansas, Iowa and Missouri state lines. Officers in those states were on the alert.

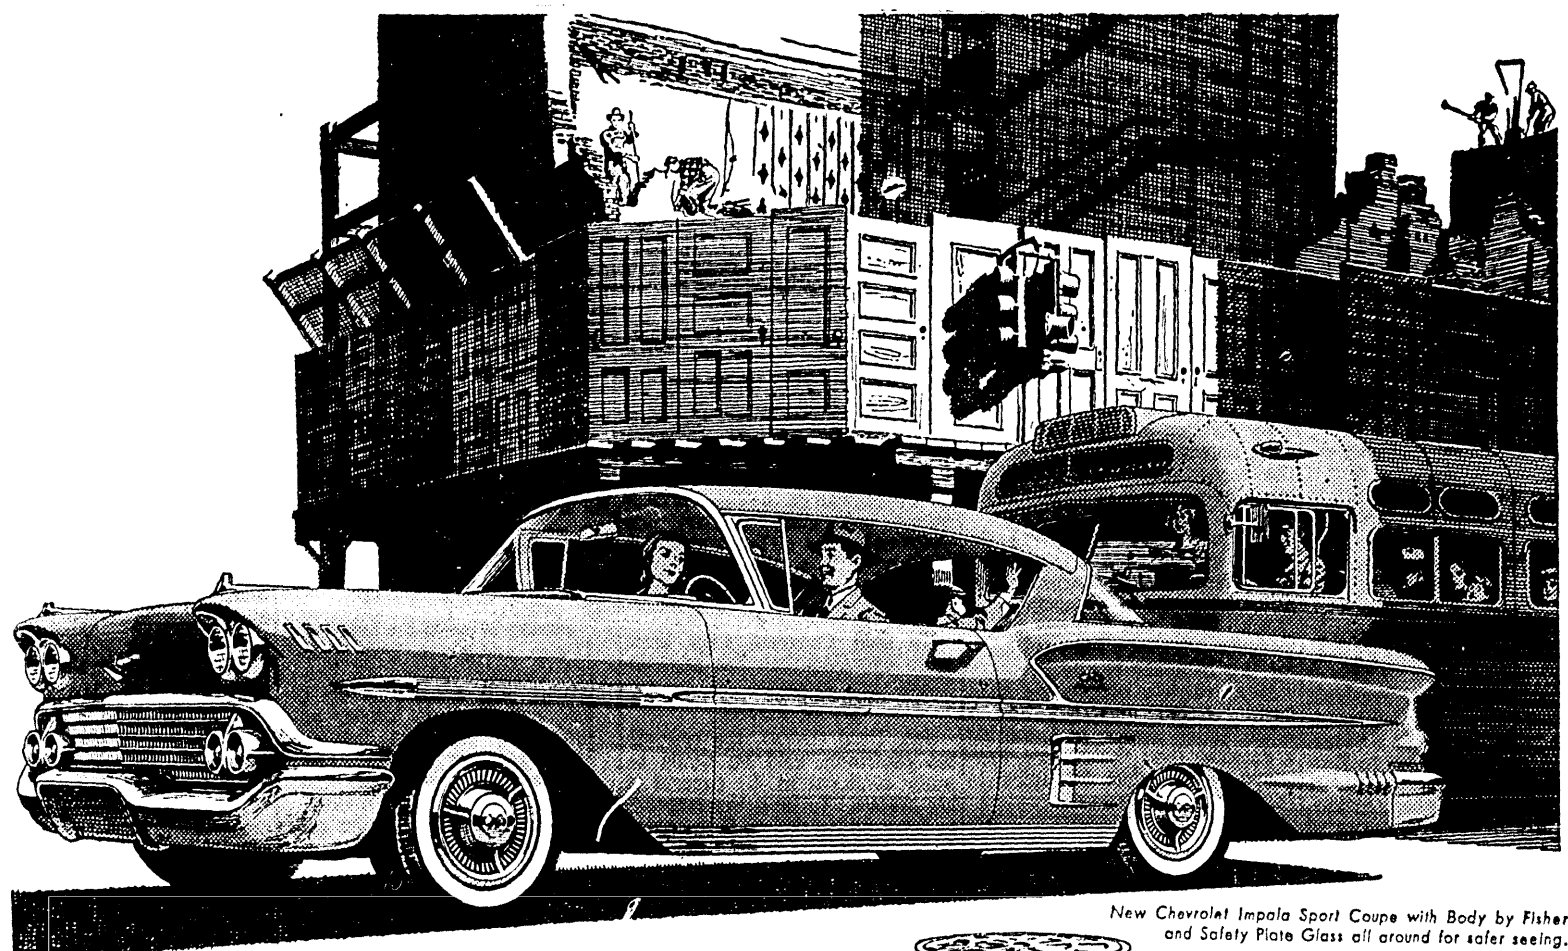

In Mount Vernon, Iowa, two truckers involved in an accident reported flagging down a car whose occupants fitted the description of the hunted pair.

HOSPITAL PROBE

New Meaning To Testimony Given

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The executive secretary of the state Mental Health Board issued a statement that his testimony before a legislative committee sought to show that considerable pressure had been exerted against the board, possibly by the chairman, Seth Hudspheth, who wrote Rep. Walter Hester of Adams County yesterday that he thought newspaper and radio accounts left an erroneous impression.

"... Although no pressure had been put on me personally," he said he testified, "there was considerable evidence to show that pressure had been put on the board."

"I sought to show that it was possible that the chairman had exerted pressure on the board by implying that he was carrying out the wishes of the governor."

The Senate-House committee for investigating state affairs is conducting hearings on charges by so-called board members that political interference has resulted in brutalities and deplorable conditions at Ellisville State School for the Feeble Minded.

Gov. J. P. Coleman has testified he has not exerted pressure on the board. He issued a statement yesterday that Hudspheth "testified positively that neither the governor nor the lieutenant governor has ever attempted to pressure him in any way concerning his duties as executive secretary of the mental board."

The charges of political interference came from Mrs. Fred Parker of Prentiss and S. B. Lawrence of Jackson when they resigned from the mental board.

Coleman denied the charges and called for a complete investigation. The legislative committee, headed by Rep. Walter Hester of Adams County, took up the challenge and in three night hearings took a great deal of testimony, much of it hearsay and opinion.

One confirmed hearing was testified to and the committee was told the attendant responsible was fired.

Hester called off the hearings temporarily yesterday while the committee determines the physical condition of Dr. J. K. Arent of Grenada, mental board chairman. "The committee wants to summon him and Ellisville Supt. W. L. Jolly for questioning."

Hudspheth also explained in his letter that he sought to show during his testimony that Mrs. Evelyn Sue Holmes was fired as acting director without just cause after having worked for the state school nine years.

Testimony indicated Mrs. Holmes was ordered discharged after the board received three affidavits from employees that she had been disloyal to Jolly and was causing discord among the staff.

"One point which I particularly am anxious to clarify," Hudspheth said in his letter, "is the implication by newspapers and radio reports that I backed off from my recommendations on Ellisville in order to save my job."

Monday night, Hudspheth testified Dr. Arent told him to "back off or you'll lose your job" after Hudspheth suggested the institution shift from emphasis on custodial care of patients to a program of rehabilitation.

"I work for the board," he continued. "The board hires and fires me."

City Council met in regular session at 10 a.m. yesterday, but recessed until after noon in order that members could attend the public hearing on the proposed federal highway through the Twin Cities.

Cruse has maintained the private water system outside the corporate limits, but has purchased water from the city in the past. Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard said that the city would take over the deposits on the Cruse system.

In other action, City Council rejected the application of Steve Freeland, Jr., for a city liquor license on the grounds that Freeland had a past criminal record.

Commissioner H. W. McSherry was granted permission to solicit bids for two sewer cave-in restorations under emergency action.

Cave-ins Explained — McSherry explained that the cave-ins were on the Loop Road and Pargoud Boulevard.

Police Chief James C. Kelly Jr. received approval to begin advertising for summer uniforms for the police department and City Attorney Haynes L. Harkey Jr. was asked to draw up a resolution closing that part of Hanson street between Pargoud and the Grayling switchtrack.

In other action, the council hired the firm of Garelick, Bradley and Heller as city auditors for 1957-58. They made the city audit last year, according to Howard.

A resolution was passed declaring that the city has no legal right to claim a 3.4-foot strip of concrete paving on the Dunham and Pugh property on Batan street.

The City Council met briefly yesterday morning, but recessed to attend the public highway hearing. The council reconvened at 2:30 p.m.

BECAUSE IT'S THERE

Why Epic Trek To South Pole?

NEW YORK (UP) — The epic trek of Dr. Vivian Fuchs across the dismal frozen desert that is the Antarctic continent has raised the question: Why do people want to reach the South Pole?

In the case of veteran adventurers like Dr. Fuchs and Sir Edmund Hillary, both of whom did it the bitter way—across the surface of the ice—there is probably only one classic answer, the same one as to the why-climb-Everest question: Because it's there.

Aside from the scientific observations they made along the way, plus the political implications of their having set foot on the territory involved, there is little doubt that both of these men and their parties thrived in winning a man-against-nature struggle.

Spurred Easy Way — They could have flown in. That's the way the man and equipment at the U.S. base on the Pole got there. Fuchs and Hillary spurred the "easy way."

A New York columnist, commenting on Dr. Fuchs' expedition, said that getting to the South Pole was a "hopelessly non-useful" thing.

Is there any reason why we should want to go there? There is for me. Maybe you could call it a quaint reason, or too cute, or maybe romantic. But the very geographic strangeness of the place, with its built-in daylight saving, beckons me. I'd like just once to stand on the spot from which every earthly direction you turn your eyes is north. Standing there, with the world at your feet—well, at least, revolving around your feet—you would be at one with all the people of the globe in the matter of time. All of the time zones narrow right down and converge into nothingness at the point of the Pole.

Two Days at Once

With a nod to the gods of whimsy, it would be nice to stand there looking along the International Dateline, letting it bisect you, and reflecting that your heart was in Tuesday while your appendix was still in Monday, as far as the map-makers were concerned.

A trip around the world down there could be accomplished in 80 ticks of your watch by circling the Pole afoot, passing through all time zones. Since there are no sky events to record passage of time, it must be kept by clock, set at an agreed-upon standard.

The U.S. base at the Pole uses New Zealand time, putting them 17 hours ahead of New York time. But selection of that time zone is an arbitrary decision.

Curious to see what answer would be forthcoming, I phoned the Hayden Planetarium here, got an astronomer on the wire, asked what time it was at the South Pole, and got this answer: "Ha-ha-ha-ha-ha."

Two Officers On Sick Leave To Be Examined

The Monroe Police Department Pension Board yesterday ordered officers, drawing sick leave pay, including former chief M. L. Peters, to take physical examinations by February 14.

H. J. McMurray is the only other officer on the list, according to Police Chief James C. Kelly, Jr.

Results of the examinations will be reported to the board and indications are that some action would be taken on the basis of the reports.

Peters stepped down as police chief, July 1, 1956, and was placed on the disability list at that time. He draws $300 per month disability pay from the local department.

Attempts to re-instate Peters as chief have been turned down by the Monroe City Council.

The resolution passed yesterday stated that all members of the police department retired because of disability must submit to examination by the "department physician" if more than six months has elapsed since the last examination.

Whitfield presented the resolution to the board, explaining that he was asked to do so by members of the Police Department.

Whitfield said the officers were "very unhappy" about Peters' status on the disability list.

Peters was succeeded by Kelly. The City Council has refused to re-appoint Peters to replace Kelly, but no action has been taken to remove the ex-chief from the disability list.

Whitfield said the examination "will make it official whether he should be on the disability list." The examination will be made by Dr. Ervin Wolff, who has been named as the official doctor for the City of Monroe.

A copy of the resolution passed yesterday will be mailed to Peters and McMurray. They will be given until February 14th to submit themselves for examination to Dr. Wolff.

Whitfield explained that Peters and McMurray retired with two-thirds pay. He said the pension board "represents $200,000 worth of protection" to police officers.

Serving on the pension board are Whitfield, Kelly, Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard, who serves as chairman, city attorney Haynes L. Harkey Jr., and city secretary-treasurer P. A. Poag.

In other action taken yesterday, it was moved that the board employ the city auditors—Garelick, Bradley and Heller.

Book Bombing In Turkey

The terrorist bombs planted near the American Embassy and "American Library" in Ankara, Turkey, expressed blanket sentiments of "anti-American" elements in the Middle East. But one phase of the action may gain some favor among Turks who lean in the pro-western direction.

The appearance of Secretary of State Dulles at the present conference of Baghdad Pact nations as an observer - - The United States is not a member nation - - apparently fanned the smothering coals of certain radical elements into outright violence.

The bomb planters included as a target the "American Library", a type of institution which is among the pet peeves of even our best friends in other countries.

It is fortunate that no one was injured in the blasts. Though no reports included words more leading than "terrorists" as suspects, it is known that the Communist movement has a long history of bomb tossing in its background. Certainly, the explosion at the American Embassy was an act of violence with no intent of gaining friends either Turkish or American.

But the same party, or another group masterminded from the same headquarters, struck a weak spot in the U. S. armor with the bomb in front of the bookstore.

It is difficult to point a finger at any particular weakness in the U. S. information and propaganda program. Yet missionaries, Congressmen and visitors from many walks of life have reported our books, movies and "entertainment" sent abroad have not formed the basis of greater friendship and understanding.

A recent lecture by a missionary from Japan revealed the wave of poor discipline in Japanese schools breaking out after the showing of the moving picture, "The Blackboard Jungle." This was a queer item to export, since the basic problem is peculiar to a situation in large schools in the Eastern states in this country.

Equally foolish are "intellectual" pamphlets which extoll the aspects of the "New Deal" and the TVA, which comprise a good part of reading matter sent abroad. As recently as 1955, a German candidate for a law degree at the University of Heidelberg wrote his thesis on the subject, "Economic Aspects of the Roosevelt Administration."

Entertainers - - particularly exponents of occult jazz - - consider the State Department obliged to send them abroad to win friends or perhaps the heads of Moscow youth in the direction of "democracy" and whatever lingo or narcotics required to get the "most" out of something many Americans cannot stomach.

The planting of a bomb near an embassy is a clear violation of law and order.

The explosion by the "American Library" in Ankara might not be accepted as such a cut and dried case by all Turks.

Holoday's New Post Is Not The Solution

The recent appointment of William M. Holoday, missiles director to co-ordinate work by the Army on an anti-missile missile and by the Air Force on missile detection systems is not likely to solve the problem of this country's defense effort.

Actually, it appears on the surface that the new setup merely adds confusion. In the first place, Mr. Holoday's record as missiles director has been anything but outstanding. He has made extravagant public statements about our progress in the field of rockets and satellites which he was later forced to recant before a congressional committee.

Simultaneously with the announcement, the defense department heralded it as a step toward lessening inter-service rivalry. This is to be seriously doubted, although only time will tell.

Generally speaking, the concept of missile warfare is so new it is difficult to fit it into conventional classifications. And from an overall viewpoint, why should the function of designing an anti-missile missile to destroy an ICBM in flight be assigned to the Army? Why, also, should the Air Force be given the job of developing detection devices? Why shouldn't both functions be the responsibility of one organization.

Then the big question is this - - why should each individual branch of the military service be working on similar projects at the same time? This means simply that all new missiles will cost double or triple.

A new organization obviously was intended when President Eisenhower announced that an Advanced Research Projects Agency would be established independent of the services. Organization of the agency has been delayed and Mr. Holoday will function in place of it in his new capacity. Once the services get started on the new assignments it will be safe prediction they will continue and the new agency will be short-circuited before it gets started.

If President Eisenhower believes an independent agency is the answer to the defense problem, then he should insist that it be established immediately.

Sports Kept Woman Is Boating

By JIM BISHOP

The kept woman of sports is boating. I know. It has made me the tugboat Annie of the seashore. Outside my back door is a 34-foot Richardson sedan. It sits in the sun on the Shrewsbury river. The tide slides down to the sea at 3 knots. The Atlantic is 8 miles away. When I am in this office, I am Jim Bishop, mouse. On The Away We Go II, in my yachting cap, I am Jim Bishop, alias Captain Bligh.

It is a good boat. It has two engines, an automatic fire extinguishing system, a model sink, some berths, teak decks, a big convertible couch, rope, anchors, a ship to shore telephone, mufflers, a small bathroom, a bar, booze, charts, compass, an ice box, a gray chenille rug, fishing poles, life jackets and a license.

At the moment, it is under canvas at Zobel's Sea Skiff Yacht Works. It looks big. In the water, it is not so big. Around it are other boats, bigger and smaller. The main trouble with yachting—as it is loosely called—is that the boatman starts modestly and is always trying to sell his boat to get a bigger one.

There are 35,000,000 boating enthusiasts in the United States. They churn up the lakes and the rivers and the oceans in everything from high-powered splinters to fat ocean-going liners. I have met many of these boaters and I know but one who wanted to trade for a smaller boat. He didn't look well. The others are creeping up, inch by inch, toward something like the Queen Mary.

Gayle and I went to the recent Boat Show in New York. This is an annual heartache. We go. We look. We are conquered. There were four floors of high seas, headachings and we didn't miss an exhibit. The prices would drop Mr. J. P. Morgan into shock. You can buy a nice family-sized 43-footer for $29,850. Gayle sat at the wheel and mentally piloted this one right through the lake of people below and on out of the Coliseum and down 7th Avenue.

I could see the glaze in her eyes. We saw a blue yawl, shaped like a tear drop, with a mast that must have been four stories high. We saw steel boats and outboards made like Cadillac coupes (with tail fins) and we saw square houseboats with curtains hanging and fast mahogany speedboats and tiny doodlebugs.

We saw engines as big as Steinways and small enough to fit in a glove compartment. There were boat refrigerators and stoves and radios and blinker lights. There were Owens Boats and Wheelers and Cris-Crafts, Roamers, Higgins, Matthews, and Egg Harbors. Gayle and I shot the whole wad. We talked boats with Ed Borg of Englewood and a Dal Blackman of Dale, then we went to the Spar-ton people and bought a horn. Don't laugh. It cost $67.48 and for this kind of money the blast should blow the other boats out of the water.

Boating, as I started to say, is expensive. If it is the love of your life—as it is to Herb Shiner and Burris Jenkins and Roy Campanella—then count the cost of the boat as nothing, because it is the upkeep that will drive you right out of your cotton-picking mind.

Mine is not a big boat. Insurance on it costs close to $500 a year. Winter storage is $96. Once, I bent a blade on a propeller. It cost $34 just to pull the boat out of the water, without doing anything about the bent blade. Two boat hooks cost $21.20.

I asked a man to give me a new set of points. His bill read: "July 14—check motor, install new points . . . $7. Points . . . $12.5." Two weeks later, an engine clutch slipped. I asked the man to look at it. I still have the bill. "Check clutch and test motor" it reads. "$7." This was the same motor he had checked two weeks before. A few days later, I whispered that the clutch was not exactly right. He fixed it (and me) at once. "Check engine and test," the bill reads. "5 hours. $17.50."

This is not to discourage you. As my mother used to say: "It's better throwing it away like this than spending it in a saloon." She may have been prejudiced.

Among the bills, I see one for "Cocktail flag . . . $5.50." Mom would not have liked it. "For that," she would have snorted, "you need a flag?" . . .

World Is Plenty Mixed Up

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The world is a little too old to claim it's a crazy, mixed-up kid. And maybe it isn't crazy. But it's mixed up. The Baghdad Pact is an example.

Secretary of State Dulles right now is in Ankara, Turkey, at a meeting of the Baghdad Pact nations: Britain, Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan. We may only suspect this alliance with guns and money. We pushed the ideas.

But we won't join it. This alliance was created as a military defense against Russia along its southern flank. It is one more link in a chain of alliances this country sponsored around the world. Examples: NATO in Western Europe, SEATO in Southeast Asia.

The Arabs of the Middle East—but not all of them, since Iraq is an Arab country and is in the Baghdad Pact—don't like the pact arrangements.

Besides, after their years of experience with the colonial-minded British and French, they are justly sensitive on the subject of colonialism and suspicious of any big power wielding influence in the area.

So this country—and this seems to be the main reason for our not joining—stays out of the pact as added assurance to the Arab world that we have no colonial intentions but only want to help the area.

Since we're actually up to our necks in the Baghdad Pact we seem to be achieving what we want without exposing ourselves to the anti-American propaganda barrages of Egypt and Russia which would be stepped up if we joined.

Yet we could hardly be deeper in the pact if we did join, and this is something both the Russians and the Middle East Arabs know.

While letting ourselves be considered officially only as an associate member, we assure the Baghdad Pact countries we will come to their assistance if they're hit with Communist aggression. The only Communist country in the area is Russia.

But we also extend the same promise to the rest of the Middle East—if they ever need it and ask for it.

Another reason for staying out of the pact may be concern about Russian reaction to having us as full-fledged member of the Baghdad alliance on the Soviet doorstep. But since we're the main support of the pact anyway, that couldn't mean much.

It could have been hoped—when the pact was created several years ago—that besides its value as a military defense against Russia it would help keep the Soviets out of the Middle East. Some of the member countries lie between the two.

But the Russians just skipped around the roadblock by giving arms to Egypt and help to Syria. They proved two fine starting points for the Soviets to start spreading their influence in the Middle East and into Africa.

But things will really get heated if this country heeds the request of Pakistan, made yesterday at Ankara, for modern weapons as a defense against Russia. The most modern would be missiles. If missile bases were set up just across the frontier from Russia in the Baghdad area, any complaints the Russians might have about our joining the pact would sound like mild complaints compared with their protests about the bases.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: I am one of the policemen who was converted in one of your meetings. The other night I caught a young man involved in a crime and led him to a personal faith. He promised to go straight, and I didn't turn him in. Was I wrong in this and did I fail in my duty? W. C.

ANSWER: You are to be commended for speaking directly to the spiritual needs of the young man. It is always thrilling to hear of policemen who are witnessing for Christ. You did more than catch a criminal and punish him. You were used of God to change his life.

But he must have wronged someone in the crime, and you are given the duty to protect such persons. Since I do not know all the details, you may have acted within your right as a law enforcement officer, but it does not seem wise to dismiss such a person. After coming to Christ, the young man should have been made to see that he has a debt to society. Even God does not let the sinner go Scot-free. Christ had to bear the penalty of our sins in order for us to be forgiven. While you have done a wonderful thing in leading him to Christ, it is possible that you have been guilty of a misjudgment.

Get Ready For A Heavy Missile Program

Most Soviet Propaganda Moves Have Military Purpose

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Every move Moscow makes in propaganda almost always has a military purpose back of it, a deliberate effort to aid Soviet strategy for war.

A most dramatic example of this was given in the last 48 hours. The Soviet foreign ministry on Wednesday night of this week warned the nations of the Middle East that the United States plans to establish nuclear and missile bases on their territory and argued against it. But before this news dispatch came over the wires, another dispatch had been received on Tuesday from the United Press reading as follows:

"London, Jan. 21.—The Soviet Union is building seven missile bases in Bulgaria and Albania to 'cover' NATO's sensitive southeastern flank and the Mediterranean, diplomatic dispatches from Athens report."

"The sources said five bases for guided missiles are being constructed in Bulgaria and two more in Albania."

"Experts said missiles from these bases not only could cover the Mediterranean but could strike into part of North Africa."

"The reports on Russian missile activities came from Greece which is in a good position to cover activities in Bulgaria and Albania but other sources independently made similar reports."

"The Soviet is reported to have dispatched a large number of experts to both countries to supervise establishment of the bases and to train personnel in use of the new weapons."

It would be very helpful indeed to the military objectives of the Soviet Union to prevent any missile bases from being established in the Middle East for the western forces to use, while at the same time the Soviets build up their own missile bases for offensive purposes.

The Communist tactics have met with an emphatic rebuff by President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles. Doubtless they have long been aware through intelligence sources that the Soviets were building missile bases in eastern Europe. The joint statement of the President and the secretary, issued on Wednesday, reads as follows:

"The United States is fully conscious of the threat to the area (the Middle East) which comes from the north. Formerly it was the threat of czarist imperialism. Now it is the threat of Communist imperialism, again expressed only yesterday by the Soviet Union. We respect the proven courage and determination of these nations, their governments and people, to defend their independence. Several of them—Iraq, Turkey, Pakistan and Iran—have joined together in the Baghdad Pact."

"We applaud their exercise, pursuant to the United Nations Charter, of their inherent right of collective self-defense, and we are glad to help them. Our will to do so has been particularly expressed in the Middle East Resolution, adopted by the Congress in March, 1957."

"This resolution is usually known as the 'Eisenhower Doctrine,' and it is significant that the statement just issued reminds the Soviets that the doctrine still stands. In fact, it is on this basis that Secretary Dulles is attending the meeting of the Baghdad Pact countries, although the United States is not a signatory of the treaty itself."

The State Department in another statement on Wednesday called attention to the Soviet government's claim that Mr. Dulles is making his trip to the Middle East "to compel" the countries there to accept American missile bases. The secretary pointed out that nobody is compelling the Middle East countries to defend themselves, as this is a legitimate function of their own. He added:

"It is incredibly arrogant that those who boast of their atheistic system and of their intentions to impose that system throughout the world should proclaim the doctrine that those who believe must, on that account, be deemed to be militarily inferior to the aggressive atheists."

The reference to religion arose because the press chief of the Soviet Foreign Office had said to a news conference that "the building of war bases, the deployment of nuclear weapons and the siling of rocket launching ramps in the Middle East, next to the Moslem holy places, constitute a sacrilege of the Moslem religious sentiments."

The Moscow Foreign Office didn't point out just where in the Moslem religion there is any tenet which forbids defense against attack or which holds that self-preservation against barbarism is not justified. The transparently hypocritical comments of the Soviet officials are related directly to the illusion that their propaganda will be all-pervasive and that peoples will be fooled by it. Bulgaria and Albania aren't far away from the "holy places" of the Moslem peoples. For ballistic missiles fired by Soviet armies from bases in Albania and Bulgaria can destroy every country in the Middle East if undefended and unprepared to retaliate.

Facts Of Life On James Hoffa And His Teamsters Union

By FULTON LEWIS

WASHINGTON—The facts of life about Mr. James (Tough-Guy) Hoffa and his International Teamsters Union, whether he likes it or not, are that he and the whole organization are under a Federal Court receivership.

Most press reporting on the outcome of the litigation against him by the 13 rank and file members of the union was grossly superficial and inadequate. It told of the "consent agreement" which Federal Judge F. Dickinson Lettis handed down and the setting up of a "Board of Monitors" to supervise operations of the union from here out.

It reported that Hoffa would be permitted to assume his $50,000 a year job as president of the union, as part of the arrangement, implying that this was a victory for Hoffa.

The fact is, the only victory is the $50,000. So far as power or authority goes, he becomes a hamstrung figurehead who can't make a move in any direction except with the approval of the Board of Monitors.

If he makes a false pass, or even resists any orders or recommendations from the board, they simply call a coffee break, walk across the street to the Federal Courthouse, and report him to the judge. Thereupon, Mr. Hoffa is back before the bench for orders to comply with instructions or face the consequences.

Nothing like it has ever happened in the history of the labor movement in this country or anywhere else. It is, in effect, an enforcement by the court of all the terms of the labor reform legislation over which the Congress will struggle for months in the present session.

In fact, it will serve effectively as a sort of New Haven tryout for the entire labor reform picture, because everything of importance proposed in any of the labor reform bills—the President's program, the Knowland bill and the Mundt bills—is embodied in the consent agreement.

For example, the general instructions to the Board of Monitors charge them with responsibility for the "enforcement and protection of all rights of individual members and subordinate bodies, particularly the right to vote periodically in all elections under the constitution and by-laws of the union, in honest, advertised elections."

After this, the agreement goes into detailed specifications to cover each of the many abuses that the former management of the union has practiced.

It guarantees fair and uniform qualifications for all individuals who want to stand for union office at any level, local or international. This eliminates the strong-arm methods of excluding everybody but the slate of the bosses.

It guarantees "freedom of expression of views" by individual members at union meetings or in international conventions, which stops the age-old shout-down procedure by which the bosses have dominated membership meetings.

And in every instance, if the Board of Monitors feels a bit dyspeptic about what is going on, it moves into court and says so.

It even has instructions to recommend amendments to the international constitution or local by-laws, to the extent of completely rewriting both, if that seems necessary.

And if such recommendations are made, the general executive board of the union must present the recommendations to the general body of the international convention (which has to be called when the Board of Monitors decides it should be) and must urge their adoption.

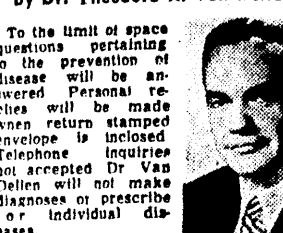

In short, Mr. Hoffa is in a straightjacket. He doesn't like it, but he had no other course. The story of that, tomorrow. (Copyright, 1958, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dollen

To the limit of space pertaining to the prevention of disease will be made. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not answered. Dr. Van Dollen will not make diagnoses or prescribe or individual diseases.

The eyes should be used but not abused. Intense eyestrain may stem from small abnormalities, such as poor lighting. There is no substitute for good illumination, free of glare and flicker, while reading or doing other close work. Fluorescent equipment is excellent except when a tube begins to wear out and flickers on and off. Glare comes from glossy paper, desktops and windows. A well lighted room offers less contrast than a spot of lighting on the reading material.

Vision is disturbed temporarily by irritants such as tobacco smoke, smog, gases, and industrial fumes. The result is burning, itching, watering, and other discomforts. Certain parts of the visual apparatus are affected by drugs such as those used in treating high blood pressure and gastrointestinal disorders. This adds to the strain of reading. Poor posture, holding near work too close to the eyes, or sitting too close to TV leads to eyestrain.

The muscles of the eyes are no different from the muscles in other parts of the body. They become exhausted when asked to work under a handicap. The nearsighted child, for example, lives in a confined world because objects in the distance are blurred and he spends more time reading, writing, and drawing than playing out of doors. These youngsters complain of discomfort in and about the eyes at the end of the day. Strain is not permanent and does not make nearsightedness worse but is tiring to the muscles. The efficiency of vision can be improved with glasses whenever a refractive error is responsible for eyestrain. This includes near and far vision, astigmatism, and changes in vision that arise with age. Improper refraction aggravates rather than helps the situation.

But specs aren't a panacea for all types of failing vision. Some conditions cannot be corrected with lenses. But advances are being made right along in this field and no older should stay away from an ophthalmologist because he fears he cannot be helped.

Continue Checkups

Mrs. T. writes: If a woman has had a hysterectomy, is all danger of cancer past or should she report to her physician periodically for an examination?

Reply

She ought to continue the checkups, even though she never will get cancer of the uterus. The pelvic organs that remain are not immune to this disease.

Ear Bone Disorder

D. W. writes: What causes hardening of the ear bones? The doctor says this condition is responsible for my deafness.

Reply

The exact cause of otosclerosis is not known but heredity plays a role.

Eat Anything After Healing

R. J. writes: Can all foods be eaten after a hemorrhoidectomy?

Reply

Yes. Until healing occurs, avoid roughage and highly seasoned foods but thereafter resume your regular meals.

Tomatoes and Rash

V. R. writes: Tomatoes have been so good this year I've eaten more of them than ever before in my life. Now I have developed an itching rash on my legs and wonder if my tomato orgy could be responsible.

Reply

Yes. A simple test is to stop eating them and see what happens. If the rash disappears within three days, and returns after eating tomatoes, there is no doubt about the cause.

Grayson Guthrie Given Promotion

The promotion of Grayson Guthrie from vice president to the position of executive vice president and director of Central Savings Bank and Trust Company was announced yesterday by Conway Crossland, Jr., president, after the 54th annual meeting of the stockholders.

The following directors were re-elected for the ensuing year: John M. Breard, C. E. Crossland, Jr., Walter W. Kellogg, Carl H. McHenry, Herman Masur, G. L. Morgan, Clarence D. Oakley, Travis Oliver, Jr., S. J. Rogers, T. H. Scott, E. J. Seymour, George M. Shelton, Jr., W. K. King Stubbs, M. C. Thompson, J. S. Washburn, George G. Weeks.

Officers for the coming year include John M. Breard, president emeritus; Conway Crossland, Jr., president; Sam Smith, executive vice president; J. S. Washburn, vice president; R. C. Sparks, vice president; W. G. Haynes, Jr., vice president; C. M. Womack, vice president; J. H. Carroll, vice president; Charles H. Bird, assistant vice president; Virgil Crawford, assistant cashier; O. W. Ritchie, assistant cashier; Robert A. Wunsch, assistant cashier; Robert Johnston, assistant cashier; T. R. Shelton, assistant cashier; M. L. Owens, Jr., assistant cashier.

Makes Report

Crossland, in making his first annual report as president of Central Bank, reviewed the year's activity and progress. He pointed out that 1957 was an entirely satisfactory year in all departments within the bank and emphasized that much had been done in laying groundwork for future growth.

Guthrie, the new executive vice president, was born at Grecian Bend Plantation in Ouachita Parish near Monroe and attended the parish schools and Louisiana Tech in Ruston. He joined Central Bank in 1929 and has been active in banking circles ever since, presently serving as treasurer of the Louisiana Bankers Association.

As past president of the First Regional Clearing House Association, he was instrumental in the organization of the local chapter of the National Association of Bank Auditors and Comptrollers and the American Institute of Banking. He is a member of the 1958 graduating class of The School of Banking of the South, Louisiana State University.

A charter member of St. Paul's Methodist Church, he is treasurer of the Monroe district work of the Methodist Church, a member of Bayou de L'Ange Country Club and the Lotus Club of Monroe.

His father, Grayson Guthrie Sr., was a prominent planter of Ouachita Parish and was instrumental in the development of the Monroe gas field and served as police juror for many years. He is the grandson of the late Judge Allen Barksdale of Ruston, pioneer jurist of Lincoln and Union Parishes.

Guthrie is married to the former Frances May and is the father of two children, Fran, attending Northeast State College, and Jim, a student at Neville High School.

Hagen Would Allow More Good Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hagen (D-Calif.) proposed today that farmers capable of producing marketable grades of cotton be permitted to plant additional acreage this year without penalty.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, Hagen said there will be a shortage of the type of cotton desired by the mills despite a surplus of "junk" cotton acquired by the government under price support laws.

An across-the-board increase in acreage to get the additional cotton needed by the mills would produce about 30 per cent "junk" on the added acreage, he said.

Hagen proposed that additional acreage be granted for 1958 to those farmers who would produce cotton of the grade of strict low middling or better. Over-quota cotton meeting the standard could be marketed without penalty and enjoy loan privileges. Over-quota production failing to meet the minimum standard would be denied loan benefits and be subject to penalties.

Hagen said his proposal could be applied to other price supported crops presenting "this phenomenon of shortage in the midst of surplus."

"Such a program would tend to lead production in the direction of the market place rather than government storage," he said.

White Slave Charge Filed On Area Man

SHREVEPORT (Special) — An East Carroll man was arrested here yesterday by FBI agents on charges of transporting a teenage girl across the state line for purposes of prostitution.

The man, Clyde Alton Kimble, 28, was charged in a complaint issued by federal authorities in Dallas. Local agents, informed Kimble might come to Shreveport from Dallas, arrested him in the 800 block of Louisiana.

Kimble is charged with transporting the girl, who reportedly is 14 or 15 years of age, from her home town of Waverly, in Madison Parish, to Dallas. Kimble is a resident of Sondheimer.

Inmates Don't Like A 'Rat', Asserts Lifer

NEW ORLEANS — UP — Federal District Judge Herbert W. Christenberry set aside a contempt citation Tuesday against Harry Widger, who is serving a life term at Angola penitentiary.

Widger was convicted and sentenced for the 1950 slaying of a New Orleans used car dealer, Henry Stern, during a robbery.

Judge Christenberry cited Widger last May for contempt and sentenced him to a year and a day, when he refused to testify against Anthony Maenza of Chicago who was being tried on federal charges for fleeing Louisiana to avoid prosecution in the Stern killing.

Widger, who was brought here yesterday from Angola, told the court he still refused to testify because he feared retaliation. He said the inmates "don't like people to be a rat."

The judge set aside the contempt citation after the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals said Widger should have been given a hearing before Christenberry sentenced him.

Angola Warden Maurice Sigler also testified that harm may come to Widger from other inmates if he testified because of lack of isolated quarters at the prison.

HOW TO DEAL WITH YOUR TENSIONS

The quest for peace of mind—or for good mental health, which is another name for it—is universal. We have to work to achieve it. Following is one of a few simple, ready-to-hand actions which may help you.

WORK OFF YOUR ANGER

If you feel yourself using anger as a general way of behavior, remember that while anger may give you a temporary sense of righteousness, or even of power, it will generally leave you feeling foolish and sorry in the end. If you feel like lashing out at someone who has provoked you, try holding off that impulse for a while. Let it wait until tomorrow. Meanwhile, do something constructive with the pent-up energy. Pitch into some physical activity like gardening, cleaning out the garage, carpentry or some other do-it-yourself project. Or work it out in tennis or a long walk.

This is one of eleven simple suggestions that can be helpful if they are applied diligently. If you would like further information, write for the free new booklet: "How To DEAL WITH YOUR TENSIONS," written by top experts in the field of psychiatry. Address: Better Mental Health, Box 2500, New York 1, New York.

PRE-SUMMIT TALKS

Adenauer, Lahr Flying To Moscow

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's special envoy, Ambassador Rolf Lahr, flies to Moscow Thursday to resume trade talks with the Soviets that may develop into negotiations for a summit conference.

Lahr, one of West Germany's ablest negotiators, is regarded here as Adenauer's ace-in-the-hole in sounding out the Soviets on summit talks.

Foreign ministry officials said Lahr had no specific instructions to discuss a summit conference but was prepared to listen to anything the Soviets might have to say.

Negotiations Not Letters — Adenauer recently called on the Soviets to stop writing letters about negotiations, and get down to discussing them through diplomatic channels.

Lahr's opposite number in the trade talks will be Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Semenov, former Soviet high commissioner in East German and one of Russia's top experts on matric talks. They said that his presence would be particularly valuable following the declaration by U.S. presidential press secretary James Hagerty that the United States was ready to attend a summit conference if agreement on an agenda could be reached previously.

Pipeline Into Kremlin — They said Lahr had the best pipeline into the Kremlin for such talks, especially as the Soviets were obviously unwilling to discuss the agenda at foreign ministers level.

NEW ISRAELI ARMY CHIEF — Brig. Gen. Chaim Laskov, 39, has been named chief of staff of Israeli Army, succeeding Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, who resigned. Gen. Laskov served with British Army during World War II and has held numerous important positions in the Israeli Army. (AP Wirephoto)

Ellender Urges Factual Reporting About America

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) proposed today that this country eliminate propaganda from its world information program.

Ellender told the Senate yesterday information directed at the Iron Curtain should be expanded and built around factual reporting of the news.

"Every effort should be made to objectively depict the enormous advantages of our way of life," he said, "without disparaging the system presently in effect in the Soviet Union or behind the iron curtain."

Soil Conservation Meeting Slated

Soil conservation officials from northeast Louisiana will hear discussions on water and soil problems at a Baton Rouge conference this week, it was learned today.

S. R. Aycock, head of the Ouachita Parish Soil Conservation Service; R. G. Harmon, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Boeuf River district, and E. T. Powell, chairman of the D'Arbonne district left Monroe today for the meeting.

Ervin L. Peterson, assistant secretary of agriculture, will give the main address. He is known as a strong advocate of a balanced soil and water conservation program and is in charge of federal-state relations.

Discussions may also include needs for legislation in the state's water problems.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms...only parasite that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pills must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do...and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

'Doubtful' If Campanella Will Play Ball Again

Catcher Wins Battle For Life-Reports

By HENRY LOGEMAN

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (UP)—Roy Campanella is on the road back. That was the substance of a dramatic bulletin from the stricken Los Angeles Dodger catcher's bedside at Glen Cove Community Hospital today less than 24 hours after the 36-year-old baseball great escaped death by an inch in an automobile accident.

"Campanella's condition is somewhat better and the overall picture fairly encouraging," the hospital bulletin said early this morning. "His paralysis is unchanged but it could not be expected to improve as yet."

The bulletin, issued by Dr. Robert W. Senstaken, the neurological physician who operated more than four hours on Campanella Tuesday morning, and hospital administrator Harry Clifford, said the stricken patient "remains on the danger list." But hospital spokesmen emphasized the encouraging aspect of the bulletin in a clear indication that physicians believed Campy had won his primary battle—for life.

Dr. Senstaken also said his father, bulletins on Campanella's condition will be issued on a two-day basis.

Whether Campanella, who probably is nearer 40 than his 36-year "baseball age," ever will be able to resume his baseball career remained highly doubtful. Doctors said it was "never" he might play again but Dr. Senstaken qualified the statement late Tuesday.

"Assuming a complete recovery, he could not play ball before a year," Dr. Senstaken said. "He's foolish if he tries to continue to play baseball, but he's not my patient and I'm not going to tell him what to do."

Dr. Senstaken disclosed that the fifth and sixth vertebrae of Campanella's spinal column were "fractured and dislocated" at about the neckline and said the catcher would have "died instantly" had the injury been an inch higher. He said Campanella's short, bull-like neck played a key part in his escape from a fatal injury.

The doctor said Campanella later will be required to wear a "four poster brace" on his neck with a cup under the chin. He said no further operations were planned "in the immediate future" but conceded "there might have to be another one later on."

Campanella, father of six children ranging from four to 18 years, suffered the accident at 3:30 a. m. e. s. t. Tuesday when his rented sedan skidded on wet pavement and turned over. He was driving from his Harlem liquor store to his 10-room, $40,000 house.

Kenny Creighton Leads Bowlers In Monday League

By CASEY JONES

Kenny Creighton, who has been throwing a mean ball lately, came through with another fine performance Monday night to lead the Standard Oil Supply Co. to a three-out-of-four point win over Steele's Edsel Motor Co. Kenny shot a 223 game, backed by a 575 series.

Ballard's Air Conditioning shot both the high single game and high series for teams. The scores were 1,036 and 3,039.

Continental Laboratories bested The Forge three points to one as Lefty Ed Villa and Larry Pace teamed up to push over the win. Lefty hit a 214 game, while Larry carried the series with a 546-er.

The Mighty Higgins, showed a 207 game and Red Holley, a 551 series to lead the boys from the Forge.

Hatten Motor Co., with Eddie Fleming going wild, downed Royal Feed and Seed three out of four points. Eddie used a 209 game and a 563 series to lead the Hatten boys. Luke Connors went all the way for the Royal Kids with a 204 game and a fine series of 586.

Ballard's Air Conditioning jarred the strong Longview Equipment team with a three-out-of-four point win. Bill Dyer was the big gun for the air conditioning boys with a 196 game and a 546 series. Theo Finkbeiner shot a 205 game and Tommy Higgins a 570 series to lead the Longview boys.

Gay's Clothing Company bested Neon Sign Service three points to one. Sam Corroero was the big show for the clothing boys with a 216 game, backed by a fine 576 series. J. C. Holloway, throwing a 212 game, and Bill Bryan, hurling a 509 series, led the Neon boys.

Standard Office Supply Co. with Kenny Creighton taking the lead scored Steele's Edsel Motor company three points to one. Kenny showed a fine game of 223, along with a swell series of 575. Leroy Williams turned in some nice bowling for the Edsel boys with a 216 game, backed by a 555 series.

Byrd Cagers Rout West Monroe Team

Defending champion Byrdroe scoring with 19 points with Larry Lewis close behind with 18. Johnny Byrd had 18 to lead Byrd with Ron Yeager and Bill Fitzgerald contributing 12 each.

West Monroe plays in its tournament this week end before returning to regular action on Feb. 4 against Farmville there.

The defeat was the first for L. V. Norris' scrappy outfit in the conference and left the Rebels with a 2-14 record along with Byrd and Ouachita. This leaves the West Monroe-Ouachita game of Feb. 6 and the Byrd-West Monroe encounter of Feb. 23 as big hurdles to West Monroe's first conference championship.

West Monroe was never in the game last night. Byrd jumped out to a 40 lead, the Rebels tied it up at 44 and then the Shreveporters went ahead and it was never close again.

Byrd led 20-12 at the end of the first period, 34-22 at halftime and 51-32 at the end of the third quarter.

West Monroe got hot in the last three minutes of the game and racked up five straight field goals before Byrd came back with three of their own but it was a case of too little and too late.

Byrd hit 67 per cent of their field goal efforts in the first half while West Monroe was cold and that about tells the story.

Northeast Ends Losing Streak, Drops La. College

Woodchoppers Cutting Lead In League Set

The Woodchoppers took three points from the leading Bordenettes this week to tighten the race in the Housewives League.

The victory was the first for Coach Lenny Fant's Indians since they upset Arkansas State in Monroe on Jan. 6. The Redskins have lost nine games. Louisiana College's record is now 2-8.

Bob Patterson paced Northeast in the first half of the fast-paced contest with John Freeman leading the way in the second. Northeast had a 51-43 lead at intermission.

Northeast, sparked by the work of Billy May and Huey Cottrell on the boards, led most of the way. The Indians had defeated Louisiana College once before, on Dec. 18 in Monroe.

John Freeman had 28 points to lead Northeast in that department with Patterson getting 21, Billy May 14 and Cottrell 11. Don Berry dominated the scoring for the losers with 35 markers.

Northeast returns to action next Monday night when they play East Texas Baptist College at the Ouachita gym.

Another set of brothers, Sammy and Terry Knighten, will wrestle, Sammy is 10 and weighs 102 and Terry is 12 and weighs 116. Another wrestling match will pit Tojo Green and Lawrence Green, both 15 - years old.

Two of the Golden Glovers, Chatham and Hanson, fight in one of the main events. Chatham is 16 and weighs 155 while Hanson is 15 and tips the scales at 130.

Jim Collins, a welterweight at 145 and 17-years old, will face lightweightweight Donald Ware, the entrants' trainer, in the other main event.

Knighten says there's also the possibility of a heavyweight wrestling bout being staged but arrangements are incomplete.

6-Event Amateur Match Scheduled

A six event amateur boxing match will be held at the Fairgrounds, in West Monroe at 8 o'clock Friday night, S. J. Knighten, operator of Joe's Gym, announced yesterday.

The proceeds will go toward meeting the expenses of four local entries, three of which will appear on the card, in Shreveport's Golden Gloves tournament, Knighten said. The four boxers, Richard Chatham, Talmage Hanson, Jim Collins and James Harvey Chapman, will leave with Knighten for the Shreveport tournament Saturday. All but Chapman will box Friday night at the Fairgrounds.

Wayne Knighten, 9-years old and 70 lbs., faces Wallace Hawthorn, also nine and weighing 65 lbs., in the night's first match at 8 o'clock. This one will be a wrestling bout. Bobby and Billy Kimman, 11-years old and 85 pounds each, will box in the next feature.

Two of the Golden Glovers, Chatham and Hanson, fight in one of the main events. Chatham is 16 and weighs 155 while Hanson is 15 and tips the scales at 130.

NEW YORK (UP) — Jimmie Foxx sadly admits making "many mistakes" during his lifetime, but probably his biggest was keeping his desperate financial plight a secret from Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey.

Yawkey, a millionaire many times over, quite possibly is the most generous man in baseball. His list of philanthropies is a long one. No one ever will know the exact extent of Yawkey's open-handedness because he prefers not to advertise it.

The widow of a famed baseball executive was only one of many who could testify to his generosity. She received a check from Yawkey regularly each month until she died. An ex-Red Sox player is another perfect example. Even though he was never a regular with Boston, he was given a well-paying, lifetime scouting job by Yawkey after an accident ended his playing career.

Yawkey was not aware of Foxx's acute financial situation. When it was publicly revealed two weeks ago, Yawkey was hunting in South Carolina.

News of Foxx's distress resulted in 252 communications to him, many of the wires containing offers of every type and description.

Rebel Cagers Capture Two At Sterlington

STERLINGTON, La. (Special)—The A. L. Smith girls and both West Monroe teams took victories here last night in the second night of the A. L. Smith Junior High Basketball Tournament.

Smith whipped Start, 37-23, West Monroe girls beat Winnfield, 33-16, and West Monroe boys beat the other Winnfield team, 31-20.

Glenn led A. L. Smith with 15 points with Slocum putting in 20 for Start. Wainwright's 13 points paced the West Monroe girls' victory and Mixon led Winnfield with eight markers. Lohrman got 10 for West Monroe boys and Griffin had 7 to lead Winnfield.

Three games are on tap for today with Holly Ridge and Mer Rouge girls to start things off with a contest at 5:30 this afternoon. Holly Ridge and Bernice boys will play at 6:50 and A. L. Smith and Oak Ridge boys tangle at 8:10.

Lindsey Furniture knocked off Robert's Grocery, 67-54, as Wheeler showed the way with 22. White led Robert's with 17.

Sauldsberry Thrown Out Of Game

For a brief moment Tuesday night Woodie Sauldsberry must have thought he was back clowning, but his antics in the first game of a National Basketball Assn. doubleheader at Madison Square Garden are almost sure to cost him a fine and reprimand.

The six-even rookie, who played collegiate ball at Texas Southern before hooking up with the Trojans, lost his temper in a skirmish with Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks and he wound up being tossed out of the game. Philadelphia eventually lost the game, 123-109.

In the windup of the twin bill, player-coach Paul Seymour and star Ed Conlin were ejected, but the Syracuse Nationals managed to beat the New York Knickerbockers, 110-102, anyway.

IRISH DIVIDE Twin Bill With Rayville Team

The Fighting Irish of St. Matthew's High School split a basketball double header with the Rayville Hornets here last night as the classy Irish quintet sacked their Hornet rivals, 48-37, after Rayville's girls had marched to a 29-21 victory over the St. Matthew's sextet.

Bradley Bigger hooped 21 points to lead the St. Matthew's boys, while Danny McCarty was leading his Hornet mates with 19.

Linda Ellington led the Rayville girls with 15 points, while Adeline Eliaz was high scorer for the St. Matthew's quintet with 10.

The game was the last tune-up for the Irish quint before its date with Tallulah in the first round of the West Monroe High School Invitational Tournament this week. Next regular game for the Irish is with Mangham February 6.

Stengel Raps Diamond Star For Fielding

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle was enroute to Florida today with a $75,000 contract within his grasp but some resounding criticism ringing in his ears.

Assistant General Manager Leo MacPhail of the New York Yankees indicated that his prize slugger won't prove difficult to sign. He said he would meet again with Mantle in Florida about Feb. 10 and added:

"We're not very far apart. I don't expect any trouble getting together at our next meeting."

Mantle, however, was included in a sharply-worded critique of Yankee players Tuesday by none other than manager Casey Stengel.

"He needs fielding practice," said Stengel. "Some balls are going straight over his head and he oughta catch 'em. He goes sideways backward instead of wheeling and running to catch balls over his head."

In a general run-down of his team, Stengel also said: "We gotta do better than we did in the World Series. We gotta wake up and find out why all those things went wrong. We messed up plays that should have been learned in our rookie school a long time ago."

The Detroit Tigers, meanwhile, announced the completion of their recent deal with the San Francisco Giants had the latter selling infielder Ossie Virgil direct to Charleston, W. Va., a Detroit farm club. The Tigers obtained first-baseman Gail Harris for infielder Jim Finigan and $20,000 in the deal.

Elsewhere: Bob (Hurricane) Iazle, the rookie outfielder who hit .403 in 41 games for the world champion Milwaukee Braves, returned his contract unsigned but predicted "an early compromise" with general manager John Quinn.

The Washington Senators signed infielder Harmon Killebrew, pitcher Ted Abernathy and first-baseman Julio Becquer.

The Kansas City Athletics signed 25-year old Walt Craddock, 18-4 for Buffalo in the International League last season, and Murry Dickson, 42-year old righthander who had a 5-3 record with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1957.

Fair Park Falls Before Ouachita

Lanny Johnson led Ouachita to a 57-51 victory over Fair Park here last night to give the winners a share of the I-AAA conference basketball lead.

The win coupled with Byrd's victory over West Monroe, left Ouachita, Byrd and West Monroe with a 2-1 conference records and a tie for first place in the loop. Fair Park is out of it with an 0-3 mark.

Johnson poured in 31 points for Ouachita, hitting most of them with push shots from the corners. Billy Roach followed with 12. Center Jerry Burton had 10 for Fair Park and Linus Lopez got 14.

Ouachita was left at the gate in the first quarter and were behind, 12-4 with 3:10 left to go in the period. By the end of the quarter it was 16-12 with Fair Park still leading.

The Lions closed in for the kill in the second period, moving into an 18-18 tie with six minutes left, falling behind again and then going ahead to 23-22, on a long one hander by Johnson with 4:03 left in the half. Eddie McGowan followed with another Ouachita field goal and it was 25-22 at half-time.

Ouachita steadily increased their lead in the third period and it was 46-34 at the end of the quarter.

Turns Out To Honor Brown

GREENVILLE, Miss., Jan. 29 (AP)—Hometown fans turned out last night to honor Mississippi quarterback Raymond Brown, who put on a one-man show against Texas in the Sugar Bowl football game New Year's Day.

Brown, who was drafted yesterday by the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League, was given a check for $750. Local merchants presented him and his fiancée, Lynn Shoemaker of Gulfport, a number of merchandise gifts.

EROS ROLLS ON

EROS, La. (Special)—Eros High School's Black Panthers won another basketball double header last night at the expense of Chatham High. The girls took a 55-48 win, and the boys followed with a 79-58 triumph.

Kenneth Spillers stormed the Chatham nets for 30 points as he led the Panthers to their 26th victory of the season and their 11th in district 6-C action. The Panthers, beaten only nine times this season, have not lost a league game but draw Dodson's No. 2 club in the district standings for an important game here February 6. Malone was high scorer for Chatham with 28 points.

Martha Holden led the Eros girls with 21 points, and Lanette Hood was tops for Chatham with 19.

B. Blake led the Central boys with 20 points, and Pete Moore was high man for Winnsboro with 26.

Claudine Watson showed 25 points to lead the Wildcat girls to their second win in four meetings with Central this season. Catherine Blake led Central with 18.

Woman Ticket Patrol Hears More Excuses Than Umpire

By LILAH RABUN
Staff Writer

She walks five and a half miles a day. She copies 40 to 50 car license numbers. She listens to more complaints than a judge and more excuses than a baseball umpire.

This long-suffering lady is a policewoman, whose main job is issuing parking tickets to the hundreds of minor criminals who rob the city treasury each day.

One of Monroe's policewomen, Mrs. Jessie Jordan, of 1016 N. 6th St., smiled cheerfully as she talked about her job.

"We each cover a 16-block beat about 4 or 5 times a day," she said. "At first you get awfully tired, but after about two weeks, you get used to all the walking."

The city's four meter checkers change beats each Monday morning, Mrs. Jordan said. They issue an average of 40 to 50 tickets a day.

"I usually wear out a pair of shoes about every three months," the policewoman commented.

The excuses are many and varied when the motorist notices the meter checker crouching the red "expired" flag in front of his car. "I just forgot it," is a common wail. Or "But I did put money in the meter."

"People usually do forget to put money in the meter," Mrs. Jordan said. "They get in a hurry or don't take time to get any change."

The not-guilty plea, however, won't stand up, according to the "lady cop." "If they put money in the meter," she said, "we can tell because the nickel or penny shows in the little slot on the side."

Another plea of distress comes from the shopper who drops a dime into the meter, which doesn't register any coins except nickels and pennies. "We're sorry they lose their money, but we still have to give them a ticket," Mrs. Jordan remarked.

Among the sob stories which come thick and fast from forgetful citizens who try to "beat the rap" are some gems of originality. "The most unusual one I've heard in over two years on the force came from a man who stopped me after I had placed a ticket on his car. He insisted that he had parked in a space which had no meter and someone had pushed his car up to an expired meter place." He got the ticket anyway.

Sometimes irate parkers become almost violent in their protests at receiving the parking tickets. Perhaps human nature just insists on not giving up without a fight. "They often tear the ticket to bits right in our faces," Mrs. Jordan laughed, "which doesn't do any good at all. We have the carbon copy on file."

"But most of the time people are nice to us. Once in a while we run into the hellish motorist who feels he has been unjustly accused."

Besides the daily walk around the city checking meters, Monroe's policewomen have other chores to perform in the line of duty. During the Christmas season, for example, they were stationed in stores to watch for shoplifters.

They often accompany female prisoners when they are transferred to other jails.

Mrs. Jordan related of one incident when she and another policewoman took turns staying with a woman prisoner who had to undergo surgery.

Although she keeps house and takes care of three active children in addition to her duties on the police force, Mrs. Jordan enthusiastically commented on her work. "It's very interesting to me. I wouldn't like any other occupation."

U.S. Activity In India Below Soviet-Sayres

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York food broker Paul W. Sayres said today U.S. diplomatic activity in India "compares most unfavorably with that of the Soviets."

And, he added, U.S.-Indian relations—in diplomatic, economic and social areas—"have deteriorated dangerously."

Sayres, who said he went to India at his own expense to investigate food shortages and problems, quoted an unidentified high official of the U.S. Embassy in India as telling him: "In your talks with the Indian officials, you must always remember that you treat them like 12-year-old children."

By contrast, Sayres said, he found top Indian officials to be "brilliant, well-educated, dedicated men, many of whom were graduates of the leading universities of the world."

"Our first-line diplomatic officials, such as Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, show a sympathetic understanding of India's needs," Sayres said in his printed report. But he added: "Not one American official in India speaks Hindi, while many of the Russian representatives speak it fluently."

"Americans consider themselves as aloof outsiders while the Soviets do everything in their power to win friends among all classes of Indians."

Unless this nation helps India, Sayres said, "the most important free nation on the teeming continent of Asia" may follow mainland China into the Communist ranks.

JACKSON DECLARES

More And Better Teachers Needed

Shelby M. Jackson, state superintendent of schools, last night told delegates to the Louisiana School Supervisors' Association conference that more and better qualified teacher personnel are needed to cope with the influx of new students coming into state schools each year.

In a dinner meeting speech to the educators, who held their annual meeting at Northeast Louisiana State College this week, Jackson urged the supervisors to undertake a full development of human resources, from the lowest-grade student to the teachers in the highest places of responsibility. He lauded the work of the supervisors in maintaining the high standards of teacher control and student output through a period when the teacher-student ration has become greatly out of proportion.

"But we must be ready to pay adequate salaries to our young teachers," the superintendent advised the delegates, "or they will go into the more lucrative fields of business and industry."

Jackson urged a school-taught program for the children to show the need for public support of the school system.

"We should teach them while they are still in one of our schools that they must help support that school and others when they become citizens and leaders later on in life," he explained.

The conference rounded out its three-day session with a speech instruction by Dr. Thomas R. Landry, director of elementary education, state Department of Education. Dr. Landry summarized the activities of the conference and speculated on the future of education.

Top administrative personnel from schools all over the state took part in the association's annual meeting, which had as its theme, "Supervisory Leadership to Promote Better Teaching."

Boggs Expects Long Delay On Academy Bill

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) said yesterday he expects several months to elapse before any action is taken on a bill he introduced in Congress calling for initial steps in establishing a National Academy of Science.

The bill is now before the House Armed Services Committee, he said.

It provides for an inquiry into the possibility of setting up a science academy to operate on a system similar to West Point, Annapolis and the Air Force Academy.

Louisiana has been mentioned as a possible site for the science academy.

There were approximately 63 million cars and trucks in use in the United States at the end of 1957, compared with 60,600,000 at the end of 1956.

Sees Chance To Pass State Liquor Tax

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 28 (AP)—House Speaker Robert Angelle said today mayors may have a chance for a legislative liquor tax boost if they fight for it.

The St. Martin Parish representative said the mayors must show more persuasion than they did when a similar effort flopped in 1956.

In Concordia Parish, Rep. S. P. Crane, close friend of Gov. Earl Long, said recently he would sponsor a liquor and wine tax raise, but he put off until closer to the Legislature the details of his proposal.

Last Friday the sixth district group of the Louisiana Municipal Assn. approved asking the LM convention, meeting in Shreveport in March, to consider backing a liquor tax raise of 40 cents a gallon. The state would collect the extra levy and distribute it to the municipalities.

The mayors group supported a 40-cent raise in 1956, when two-thirds majority vote for new taxes broke the back of Long's initial tax moves. The liquor tax fizzled in the wake of a House revolt against new taxes.

Angelle was chairman of the 1956 House Ways and Means Committee which gave the LMA liquor tax its first chance in that hectic session.

"Not a single mayor appeared before my committee on behalf of that bill," Angelle said. "Only an LMA attorney."

"They would have had a better chance to pass that bill, if they had come up with a lot more personal action."

"This time the mayors will have to show some personal pressure and real teamwork, and not leave all the responsibility to the Legislature."

Honorary Mayor Leon Gary, LMA president, has proposed a coalition of municipal and police jury officials to pull together in the 1958 session for a common money search.

Toughest automotive tests of all time prove

LOW-COST PLYMOUTH LOOKS, RUNS LIKE NEW—AFTER 58,000 MILES

It's America's biggest automotive value—when you buy it...and when you trade

Dramatic braking test made before top automotive editors. The Plymouth on the right had just completed a 58,000-mile cross-country run. Other tests included acceleration, ride smoothness, gas economy, handling ease. The 58,000-mile veteran performed like new!

One of the Plymouths above is fresh from the assembly line. The other, a veteran of the toughest test run of all time: 58,000 continuous miles in 58 days. A thousand miles a day through 37 states.

We put both cars through the same exacting tests. Acceleration. Gas economy. Handling ease. Braking efficiency.

The results: the Plymouth that had driven 58,000 miles—the equivalent of 6 years on the road—could hardly be told from new. Like the new Plymouth, it zoomed from 0 to 40, 40 to 60 in a matter of seconds. In a 40-mph "panic" stop, it halted within 38 inches of the new car. And in the vital area of gas economy, careful tests proved that the 58,000-mile car delivered almost the exact same mileage as the new Plymouth. It rode with a smoothness and handled with an ease that astounded even veteran test drivers... men who had thought they'd seen everything.

What does it all prove? Just this: from the day you buy it, to the day you trade it in, your new Plymouth will take you to wherever you're going... faster, smoother, easier, safer. You get more value now... and you look forward to more dollars when you trade.

Why not see your Plymouth dealer now? He'll give you a fair appraisal of your present car. Then you'll see how easy it is to own America's biggest automotive value.

Plymouth stays young and proves it!

Miss Alice Montgomery Complimented At Tea

Miss Alice Montgomery, bride-elect of John R. Sims, was feted at a tea in the home of Mrs. Arthur B. Johnson Sr., with Miss Helen Johnson serving as co-hostess. Guests were greeted at the door by Miss Montgomery, who wore a royal blue wool dress fashioned in the popular sheath style with navy accessories. Complimenting her costume was a corsage of pink carnations presented to her by the hostesses. Assisting Miss Montgomery at the door were Mrs. Howard Montgomery and Mrs. M. S. Minor, mothers of the bride and groom - elect.

Miss Lorna Montgomery, sister of the honoree, presided at the guest book.

The reception room was lovely in a pink, green and ivory decor and was highlighted by the serving table, which featured a pale pink cloth on which was centered with an arrangement of pink crystal chandeliers, artfully framed by ivory candles in silver candleabra. Polished magnolia leaves adorned the mantle, also framed by ivory candles.

A Trip South Of The Border In Early Spring

By BETH BLAIR

There is so much to see in Mexico that you should plan your trip wisely to make the most of it. It has modern cities with the charm of Old Spain, colorful fiestas, fabulous beaches, etc. A reader writes—

Dear Miss Blair: I plan a trip to Mexico City in April. What clothes are appropriate for this climate? For such a trip you need a combination wardrobe — that is — the mornings are cool, afternoons are warm and evenings can be quite chilly because of the high altitude. Mexico City is a sophisticated place so dark street dresses are popular. Include such items as: a topcoat, raincoat, warm bathrobe, cotton and lightweight dresses and separates for daytime wear. Sports clothes, sweaters and bathing suits in case you get to the coastal area. Good walking shoes are essential. The need for evening clothes depends on you. This could very well be your trouble. You can remedy this with a professional pressing job by your tailor. The next time you make something be sure to press seams flat as you sew two pieces together. Use a steam iron or a damp cloth with a regular iron.

Philip Rundell and two visitors, Misses Barbara Rundell and Denise Roberts.

Mrs. T. Pitt Presides At Meeting Of Y'ves

The regular meeting of the Y'ves was held with Mrs. Thomas Pitt presiding. Reports from various committees were given, followed by a discussion on exercise classes should be held at the "Y".

Warren L. Harker was guest speaker for the occasion. His topic was "The Care of Houseplants," and on display were many types of vines and tropical plants.

The meeting adjourned and members and guests were invited into the dining room where the hostesses, Mrs. J. R. Hood and Mrs. Harry Liner, served coffee from a table made decorative with an unique arrangement of fruit.

Guests attending were: Mesdames Ted McCrackin, W. K. Loomis Sr., Charles A. Heine, Bill

Armstrong and William M. Johnson, Jr.

Members attending were: Mesdames A. W. Gerson, W. E. McGough, Marion Perkins, Klien Crow, H. B. Johnson, H. W. Kight, W. K. Loomis Jr., Clinton Langley, Everett Heller, M. B. Gwin, Charles W. Overton, J. E. Tripp Jr., John Turner, Frank Eason, and Miss Bess Sharpe.

Members are expected to attend the next meeting on February fifth, with the Rev. Carmie Bur-cham as the guest speaker.

Tea-Shower Compliments Miss Patricia Ruple In The Richard Port Home

The Richard Port home on Country Club Road was the scene of a beautiful tea shower honoring Miss Patricia Ruple, bride-elect of Jerry Adams of Ruston, Co - hostesses were Mrs. Elgin Boggs and Mrs. Leo Rogers. The chosen color scheme was pink and white. The table was overlaid with a beautiful white ap-pliqued organdy cloth over pink cotton satin, the crystal candelabra with tall pink tapers were placed artistically around the central decor of white mums and candy - tuft interspersed with maiden-hair fern. A focal point of beauty on the tea table was the frozen arrangement for the crystal punch bowl. It was fashioned from clusters of pink grapes and various other fruits, topped with pink camellias. At vantage points throughout the house were beautiful arrangements of white mums and pink camellias.

Miss Ruple, wearing an original model of pearl gray silk, received with Mrs. Port, her mother, Mrs. W. A. Ruple, and Mrs. J. D. Tinsley of Ruston, mother of the bridegroom - elect. Miss Judy Port and Miss Nell Rogers in pretty afternoon frocks greeted the guests upon arrival. Alternating at the punch service were Mrs. George Riser and Mrs. Paul Neal. Miss Billie Ann Ruple presided at her sister's guest book.

Others assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. R. C. Edwards, Mrs. Franklin Hillman of Fordyce, Arkansas, Miss Ruthie Boggs, Mrs. Henry Mayo, Sr., Mrs. Henry Mayo, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Frazier.

Approximately one hundred guests called during the appointment.

One hair stylist predicts 1958 will be the year of the "uncoiffed" look. Michel of Helena Rubinstein said hair will continue short "with an unfiled line, like the chemise — a word, look uncoiffed."

The two - piece dress promises to give strong competition to the one piece in new spring lines. The two - pieceer shows in afternoon and cocktail hour garb, as well as in sports clothes.

EMILY POST

The Engagement Is First Announced By Parents

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening after dinner neighbors of ours dropped in to pay us a visit. It had rained most of the day and the streets were still wet. I had scrubbed and waxed all my floors that day and so when these neighbors came in, I asked them to please wipe their shoes and explained that I had just cleaned all my floors. My husband took me to task later and said that I was very rude. Will you please tell me if such a request was out of order?

Answer: I am sorry but you really should have assumed that your neighbors knew enough to wipe any water and mud off their shoes before entering your house. It was rude of you to let them feel that you doubted this.

May Man's Family Announce Engagement? Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it is proper for the man's parents to announce the engagement of their son or does the girl's parents alone have this privilege? My son's fiancée is from another city and if the announcement is put in her home town paper alone our friends here will not see it. We have a great many friends who we would like to know of our son's engagement. Would it be proper for me to announce it in our local newspaper? Answer: The engagement is announced by the girl's parents. However, after the announcement is made, you could quite properly send a notice to your newspaper saying that "The engagement of Miss Mary Jones of Los Angeles has been announced to Mr. Henry Grey of this city."

Addressing Letter to Princess Grace Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to write a letter to Princess Grace of Monaco. Will you please tell me how to address the envelope correctly and also the proper salutation?

Answer: The envelope would be addressed to H. S. H. Princess Grace of Monaco, and the salutation would be either "Your Highness" or "Your Serene Highness."

Electronics For Better Fit In All Foundations

It may take until 1968 before it reaches practical use but science is now working on an automatic radar-fitting chamber which measured for your proper bra size. Other ideas projected for the future at the recent showing include a foundation garment to combat gravity for the female space traveler! It's pink, lace-trimmed, called "Moonbeam" and inflates against the body for safety and comfort.

With better fit for the customer the incentive for constant research and improvement, this company sees among tomorrow's practical developments the elimination of proper sizing as a problem. There's the radar bra-fitting chamber which will punch out a card giving proper size, style and even suggesting styles by more than one manufacturer. Second, a simplified method of determining basic figure types will require just a few seconds as you step behind a screen and your figure is silhouetted on a panel. A file of basic types and garments best suited to them enables a clerk to make the best selection for you.

Suggested for summers, a decade hence, is the spray-on bra which you later wash off with soap. Who knows, it may come to pass!

An interesting sketch display of top designer clothes for the future was shown with future foundations to go under them. Cell Chapman sees 1968 in a slim evening gown with puff at the ankles. Under it is a knee-length leotard with diamond insets of lace at midriff and above knees. Jean Campbell thinks of the important women in 1968 as wearing an overhouse leotard costume in blue with radio equipment in hat and belt. There are magnet soled shoes. Miracle vitamins are tucked in cuffs of gloves. Underneath is a totally seamless foundation low in back for a deep plunge line bra top and cut high on the thighs. Vera Maxwell, one of today's busiest travelers, sees the costume for the future in a blue coat over a print costume with knee pants instead of a skirt. Underneath goes a sort of wrap-over

Dr. Davy O'Day Speaks To The Lakeshore PTA

The Lakeshore faculty were privileged to have with them as guest speaker, Dr. Dave O'Day, a SRA Test consultant at the regular In-Service Training meeting this week.

Dr. O'Day talked informally to the group, which included the members of Lakeshore faculty, several student teachers, Mrs. Elvira McClendon, principal Highland Elementary and Mr. J. M. Waldroup, principal Woodlawn Elementary. He explained the testing program as set up by Science Research Associates. Dr. O'Day pointed out that he liked to think of this as the Three P System—permissiveness, preparation, and presentation.

The latter part of the afternoon was given to a question-answer period, during which time many outstanding questions were explained to the satisfaction of the group.

Mrs. Tina Clark, special services and guidance director, OPS, serves as consultant for the Lakeshore faculty, announced to the group that she would secure further information, through Dr. O'Day that will aid in conferences.

The hospitality committee served iced punch and assorted cookies during the social hour.

The Truth About Air Ride

-and why it's better in a Buick

Every window of every Buick is SAFETY-GLASS.

Most cars have always used horizontal leaf springs. Some use horizontal torsion bars. For two decades, Buick has used nothing but upright coil springs at all 4 wheels for better, softer cushioning. And to get the most out of these buoyant upright springs—to bring additional solidity, balance and stability to the ride—Buick developed a new kind of chassis. This exclusive Buick chassis has the rugged roadability of a massive X-braced frame and the true-tracking steadiness of Buick's Rotoflow

Torque-Tube Drive. Developed and perfected by 20 years of experience with upright springs, Buick's Miracle Ride Chassis today turns out to be a "natural" for replacing upright coil springs with upright air springs. It's this exclusive chassis engineering experience that gives you in Buick the smoothest, most advanced, most experienced air ride* in the world.

How to clean and wax wood floors in half the time...

Some good advice from the world's largest maker of hardwood floors

Some homemakers have resigned themselves to messy soap-and-water floor care and a constant battle with stubborn black marks and old, dirty wax. No wonder they're surprised when we tell them it's actually easy to keep wood floors looking beautiful.

After years of testing with our own wood floors, we discovered the only right way is to "dry clean" them. This method is not only the best, it's the easiest, too, because you clean-as-you-wax.

OUT-CLEANS SOAP-AND-WATER

We have developed two such products for home use—Bruce Floor Cleaner for a light coat of wax and Bruce Cleaning Wax for a heavier coat of wax. Both work in the same wonderful way. A little Bruce poured on a soft cloth wipes away stubborn dirt, marks and old wax that soap and water can't touch. Even black heel and furniture marks disappear easily. All the dirt comes up on the cloth, leaving your wood floor sparkling clean.

WAXES AS IT DRY CLEANS

As the dirt wipes off, a new coat of clean wax wipes on to guard the precious beauty of the wood through months of ordinary wear. A light polishing brings a rich, mellow look you'll love.

Unconditional Money-Back Guarantee—Next time you do your wood floors, don't wash them—clean-as-you-wax with Bruce Floor Cleaner or Bruce Cleaning Wax. You'll find nothing better, nothing easier—or your money back. (Incidentally, both products will give you the same wonderful, easy, clean-as-you-wax results on linoleum and vinyl, too.)

Free Informative Floor Care Folder! Prepared by the world's largest maker of hardwood floors, this valuable folder gives tips on special wood floor problems as well as care of all other types of floors. Get your free copy by writing E. L. Bruce Co., Memphis, Tenn.

CATCH-ALL WANTED

Farm Writers Bury Hatchet

WASHINGTON (UP)—Farm law writers buried the hatchet today and assembled in an atmosphere of sweetness and light. Their avowed purpose: To concoct a "catch-all" farm bill containing new benefits for every major farming area.

The farm congressmen didn't know yet what would be in the bill. They weren't even sure they could agree on an all-inclusive measure.

New Effort

But they were determined to avoid the bitter sectional and partisan wrangling that tormented legislation last year to help both the Democratic cotton-producing South and Republican corn-producing Midwest.

The new effort to reunite the once-potent farm bloc got under way in hearings today before a House Agriculture subcommittee headed by Rep. W.R. Poage (D-Tex.). It planned to spend several days studying proposals from farm groups for legislation dealing with corn and other feed grains.

Next Wednesday another subcommittee headed by Rep. Thomas G. Abernethy (D-Miss.) will launch hearings on legislation to cancel the April 1 cut in dairy supports scheduled by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

Not As Potent

Still later other subcommittees will seek to work out new legislation for cotton and other commodities. Then Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) will call together the full committee in hopes of combining the separate recommendations in a bill that will attract enough votes from each farm region to pass the House. Rep. Charles B. Hoeven (Iowa), senior Republican on the feed grain subcommittee, told a reporter Cooley's plan is "the only way we are going to get any major farm legislation this year." He said farm congressmen "are not as potent in Congress as we used to be."

Poage said he doesn't plan to question Benson on the administration proposal to lower the price support floor on corn and other basic commodities from 75 to 60 per cent of parity. The administration plan would scrap acreage controls for corn.

"Benson can't tell us anything new," Poage declared. "He would only throw us into discord."

Long In No Hurry To Call Finance Group Into Session

BATON ROUGE — UP — Gov. Earl Long said he would wait and see how hard Louisiana might be hit by a business recession before calling the legislative finance committee into session.

Long indicated it might be several weeks before he called the committee into session to prepare a budget for the 1958 Legislature. "I want them to have all of the information available before they start making recommendations," he said.

Recommendations For Legislature

Top administration leaders and fiscal officers who make up the budget committee were expected to go into session in the middle of February to peruse state agency budgets for the coming fiscal year. The committee will make recommendations to the legislature, which opens in May.

Long said he would probably call the committee into session around the first of March. "I think that should give them plenty of time—about two months—to get their work done," the governor said.

Long said Harvey Rester, state finance officer, had told him that a recession might not be felt until the last six months of the year.

An Understanding On Gambling. On other matters, the governor hinted he and Col. John Nick Brown, superintendent of state police, have come to an understanding on the gambling problem in the state.

"I believe Brown will have a statement in regard to slot machines and gambling devices," he said.

Only last week it was reported Rep. Frank J. Diesel of St. Landry parish had at least one slot machine in a business establishment of his.

The only comment from Long was "I imagine it's happened before."

Long said he and several of the Louisiana legislators are doing all they can to prevent a shutdown at Fort Polk in western Louisiana. Army Secretary Brucker has indicated the fort might be closed in the Army's cutback program.

"We are doing all we can to prevail on the Army that it is not the thing to do," he said, adding that he has received no definite word that the fort will be shut down.

Soviets Work On Reduced Sleep Machine

LONDON — Soviet scientists are working on a machine they say will enable a person to get along fine with two hours sleep a night.

A Moscow broadcast said the "electric sleep machine" gives off ultra short waves which in frequency correspond to the molecules of fatigue toxins which develop in the human body during its waking hours. Because the frequencies correspond, the machine destroys the fatigue toxins, the broadcast said.

"The electric sleep machine will make it possible to reduce the amount of daily sleep one needs to two hours without doing the slightest harm. That means we will be living nearly three times as long as we do now," it added.

Moscow broadcast a description last week of a machine that worked similarly, but it said that one put persons to sleep. The broadcast said the nervous systems of sleeping persons give off a certain kind of impulse and the new "universal stimulator," by duplicating these impulses and introducing them into the subject's system, sent him off.

Two Stores In Delhi Damaged By Fire Today

DELHI (Special) — A blaze of unknown origin today damaged Thompson's Drug Store in the business section here. Damage was confined to the storeroom in the rear of the building, but smoke and water damage extended to the front of the drug store and an adjoining jewelry store.

The blaze was discovered about 8:30 a.m. today by Sam Mayes, manager of the drug company.

According to the fire department the blaze was brought under control about 10 a.m. and extinguished shortly afterwards. A truck from the Rayville fire department was summoned, but arrived after the blaze was under control.

Water damage is expected to run high in both stores. Smoke from the blaze broke into the Terry Jewelry store, but the blaze itself was confined to the storeroom of the drug company.

Owners of the jewelry store had begun collecting the merchandise to move in the event the blaze had broken through.

Representatives from the American Rice Growers Association and the American Sugar Cane League also discussed the supply situation of their respective crops with Benson, and told him their options regarding the legislative proposals.

Benson said that he was planning to confer with his legal staff today to get a decision on whether or not he has authority to increase the 1958 cotton acreage by administrative action. If the increase is to come through congressional action, it will be delayed considerably, officials have pointed out.

Agrees With Council. Joe Henican of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange further discussed the matter with Benson, and concurred with the council's views that cotton acreage for 1958 should be increased by 25 percent with lower support prices, providing there is a choice or option regarding the latter. It was explained this would mean a farmer could have a lower support price and increased acreage, or a higher support price and the present restricted acreage, with the choice being strictly up to the individual.

CALLER AGAIN

Dirksen Blasts Reuther Plan

WASHINGTON — Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) today described union leader Walter Reuther's profit-sharing plan as "definitely an effort to invade the management field."

"We're going to have to explore that," Dirksen said as Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, was called before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee for a second day of testimony.

Reuther testified that control over industry is not "the remotest part" of labor's goal, but Dirksen said the UAW's profit-sharing plan is an attempt "to dictate the apportionment of profits" by car manufacturers.

If Reuther is not interested in dictating policy, Dirksen asked in an interview, "why come up with a plan like that?"

Under the plan, advance by the UAW as its chief goal in contract negotiations this spring, the workers would receive 25 per cent of profits in excess of the first 10 per cent before taxes. Another 25 per cent would be earmarked as a price rebate for car buyers.

Reuther said the plan would let workers and consumers share in what he called excess profits, just as company executives do through bonuses. He contended it would help the economy by stimulating purchasing power.

He also said there was nothing new in profit-sharing plans. Some 20,000 companies now have them, he said, and while they differ in details, "the principle is the same."

Orders Campaign Against Gambling

BATON ROUGE — UP — Gov. Earl Long has ordered a statewide crackdown on all gambling establishments in Louisiana by Thursday, State Police Supt. John Nick Brown said.

The police superintendent said the gubernatorial orders came after gaming operations in West Baton Rouge and St. Landry parishes were spotlighted.

"I have told the sheriffs of St. Landry and West Baton Rouge parishes that after Thursday, any automatic payoff machines found will be picked up and confiscated," Brown said. "By that I mean any automatic devices and confiscation means destruction."

He said that the sheriffs of the two counties have said they will clean out any slot machines or other gaming devices within their jurisdiction.

"We plan to check up on them periodically," Brown said. "This is a continuing thing."

The crackdown apparently stems from a report last week that Rep. Frank J. Diesel of St. Landry parish had a slot machine in a business establishment of his.

Cash Delivered To Family Of Girard Victim

SOMAGAHARA, Japan — A U.S. Army claims officer today delivered $29,396 yen ($1,748.32) to the husband and six children of the woman William S. Girard shot to death.

Lt. Col. Joseph L. Maclele, Nocona, Tex., added 604 yen ($1.40) of his own to bring the payment of "consolation money" to a round 630,000 yen. Then he knelt before a Shinto shrine dedicated to the late Mrs. Naka Sakai and knelt again in the mud to put flowers on her grave.

Akikichi Sakai, the husband of the scrap scavenger Girard killed while on guard duty on an Army firing range, said in accepting the money: "I don't want to receive money at the cost of my wife. However, I think to refuse any longer would go against the sympathy of the people so I hereby received this money but I do not thank you for it."

"I will spend it for my children's future including education, clothing and food. Also, I will build a tombstone for my wife."

Girard, 22, was convicted of manslaughter by a Japanese court given a three-year suspended sentence and sent home to Illinois for discharge. He claimed the killing was a mistake. The court decided he fired on a "childish whim."

140 FEET. NOWATA, Okla. — Highway Patrolman Bob Able reported a flying horse killed a donkey near here. The horse had flown 14 feet through the air before hitting the donkey, having been struck by a car driven by Sally Ann Boevers of Vinila. She escaped without injury.

MOVIE MEMOS

Laurie Mitchell Wins Big Part

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Filmville newcomer Laurie Mitchell struggled for five years to win a starring role in movies and finally accomplished her heart's desire — only to find that her very pretty face never appears on the screen.

Blonde Laurie plays the title role in "Queen of the Universe," a science-fiction nifty in which she wears a mask throughout. Well, almost throughout.

At the end of the picture Laurie unmasked to reveal the most horribly disfigured face the marketplace could devise.

Others Interviewed. A number of other cuties were interviewed for the role and turned it down cold. They wanted their countenances to count.

"I longed for a starring part so long that it didn't matter," says Laurie.

"The picture certainly won't hurt my career, but it won't help much either. Producers and agents will never be able to recognize me. Even my mother wouldn't know me."

Though her face is covered up Laurie's 36-24-36 curves are much in evidence. So much so, in fact, the audience gets the idea she is a living doll until the unmasking. One look at her twisted features and the curves are forgotten.

Has Met Misfortune. Laurie's luck in films hasn't been good anyhow. In her supporting roles she's been poisoned, strangled, knifed and run over by a car.

As a change of pace in "Queen of the Universe" she is blown up. "For a while I thought about becoming a female Boris Karloff, but I like to think of myself as glamorous," she smiled sadly.

What bothers Laurie most are the wasted hours spent studying facial expressions. Undaunted by the mask, she acts up a storm, registering every emotion in the book, but no one will ever appreciate it.

"Now I'm being considered for a lead in a foreign legion picture," Laurie said. "People will be able to see my face, but I'll have to speak with a French accent."

PUBLIC NOTICE

Under the provisions of Act 81 of the 1956 session of the Louisiana Legislature and Ordinance No. 7060 of the Ouachita Parish Police Jury of 1957, dealers in gasoline are required to submit an annual report to the Police Jury of Ouachita Parish not later than February 20, 1958.

Dealers in gasoline are hereby requested to submit report of their sales for 1957 at once. This does not impose any additional taxes of any kind on said dealers, as taxes have already been paid to the State of Louisiana, and this report is needed in order for Ouachita Parish to receive its rightful share of the One Cent Gasoline Tax collected in this parish.

Additional forms needed by dealers will be supplied upon request.

The co-operation of each dealer is respectfully requested.

Cub Pack 132, Largest Here, Awarded Flag

CUB PACK HONORED — Cub scout pack 132, the largest in Monroe, has been honored by the Woodmen of the World in the recent presentation of a large American flag. The presentation was made to den mothers by WOW representatives. Left to right are: Robert Vidrine, council commander; Mrs. Phillip Reno, den 8; Mrs. Vernon Mears, den 9; Mrs. Thomas Holden, den 4 and H. D. Stricklin, north Louisiana manager for WOW. (Staff Photo by Bill Coleman.)

Den mothers for Cub Pack 132 were presented American flags by the command of the Woodmen of the World at the pack meeting. The mothers accepted the banners in behalf of pack members.

Making the presentation was Robert L. Vidrine, Ouachita Valley Camp No. 10 commander. Assisting Vidrine was H. D. Stricklin, north Louisiana state manager for the Woodmen of the World.

The flags were accepted by Mrs. Vernon Mears, Mrs. Thomas Holden, Mrs. Phillip Reno, Mrs. Albert Cooper, Mrs. Joe Tippit, Mrs. Lester Swallow, Mrs. Curtis Leckie and Mrs. Lester Hancock.

Following the presentation of the flags, James Easley, cubmaster, gave awards to the following cubs for having completed certain requirements: Freddie Poe, Lion badge; Jimmy Mears, denner bars and silver arrow point; Ray Mears, wolf badge and Gold Arrow point; Jimmie Brooks, silver arrow and gold arrow point; Andy Moody, Wolf badge; and Don Ross, wolf badge.

will also be considered for the runner-up award in the state.

The state winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship plus a trip to Washington, D. C., Williamsburg, Va., and New York City, and the didate for the title of All-American second place winner will receive a $500 scholarship.

Ruston Boy, 4, Kills Self In Pistol Accident

RUSTON (Special) — Arnold Knotts, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knotts, of 114 Calin St., here accidentally killed himself yesterday while playing with a .22 caliber pistol he had taken out of a drawer.

The boy was rushed to the Ruston Hospital for emergency treatment and died about five minutes after arrival.

Police Chief O. O. Olson said the youngster crawled upon a stool in the family home, opened a bureau drawer and removed a .22 caliber pistol from the scabbard.

The boy's mother was returning home from visiting a next-door neighbor, Mrs. Ralph Dixon, when the mishap occurred. Arnold's sister, six-year-old Elizabeth, met her mother, screaming, "some-

Miss Smith Wins Homemaker Title

WINNSBORO (Special) — Loreta Smith was named winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow contest at the Winnsboro High School.

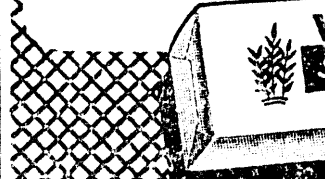

The high school senior received the highest score on a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes. Her examination paper will be entered in competition to name the state's champion paper and the state's champion paper will receive a $500 scholarship.

Doctors said the bullet entered the child's face just above the left nostril, passed through the brain, lodging at the back of the skull.

Powder burns on the child's face indicated that he might have been looking down the barrel of the fully-loaded gun when it discharged.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. today at Darby Funeral home chapel with the Rev. G. Avery Lee, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Funeral followed in Greenwood cemetery.

BREATHING NORMAL NOW—Tiny Jack Brewer, 7-months old, reaches for a toy held by his mother, Mrs. Donald Brewer of Moscow, Idaho, as he recovers in Oakland, California's Children's Hospital from major surgery to correct a narrowing of the windpipe. The baby's plight was discovered by his mother when she heard strange, noisy breathing. He was brought here for surgery to correct the abnormal position of a major blood vessel, the innominate artery. This vessel leads off the main artery carrying blood from the heart. Jack's father is a dairy herdsman at the University of Idaho and he has two sisters, Jan, 4½, and Julie, 2. (AP Wirephoto.)

McKeon Named Marine Of Month

CHERRY POINT, N. C. (AP)—Months and upheld the reduction in rank. At present, he is an operations clerk at Cherry Point Marine Air Station.

McKeon's general court-martial sentence for leading the Par-Island, S. C., "death march," a Marine ex-drill instructor.

"I'll try to be the very best private in the Marine Corps."

That was in late 1956, several months after the April 8 night march of Recruit Platoon 71 into tidal stream where six recruits drowned.

McKeon appears on the way toward realizing his vow. He was named the January Marine of the Month by the 1st Weather Fighter Squadron 114, of which he is a member.

McKeon's selection also gave ophetic meaning to Thomas' ex-emption that he reduced the sentence to give McKeon an opportunity to "build for himself a useful and honorable career."

He and believe that he will avail himself of this opportunity.

The Marine of the Month was chosen by vote of squadron members from among nominees selected for proficiency, bearing, discipline and conduct, McKeon explained.

"I really appreciate the squadron's action," said the career Marine from Worcester, Mass.

"I guess I'll stay in the Corps," said, and the word had a familiar ring. He had stood in the courtroom after his conviction and said, "I'll stay in the Marines; they'll have me."

The court-martial sentenced McKeon to reduction from staff sergeant to private, a bad conduct discharge, a $200 fine and nine months in prison. Thomas terminated the discharge and the fine, cut the prison term to three ing time for receipt of the bids. The City of Winfield reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive informality.

This resolution having been submitted to a vote, the vote thereon was as follows:

YEAS: R. M. Cherry, Ray Eagles, John McCoy, Jesse Anders.

NAYS: None.

ARREST: J. G. Russell, Jr.

And the resolution was adopted on this the 27th day of January, 1958.

D. C. ALLEN, Mayor.

G. P. LONG, Clerk.

Jan. 27, 28, 31, 1958, Feb. 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, and 14, 1958.

Downing To Head Wildlife Group

Bob Downing, local attorney, headed the list of officers elected at a meeting of the Ouachita Parish Wildlife Unit last night. It was announced today. Downing took over the presidency from A. S. (Bud) Tidwell, who declined re-nomination.

Downing also was named the unit's outstanding sportsman of 1957, receiving the Floyd Martin Memorial Trophy.

Other officers elected with Downing were Jack Rushing, vice-president, and Lloyd A. Vooch, secretary. Downing served as vice-president during 1957 and H. Y. Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

Receiving the award for selling the most memberships for the unit during 1957 was Bill Minor. Minor sold 51. Rushing reported that the membership doubled, rising to 637.

In presiding over his last meeting as president, Tidwell reported that the club has over $1,000 in the treasury. He urged 100 of the sportsmen to join the unit and assist in the conservation program.

Several questions were raised from the floor last night and a committee will be appointed to work with a group of fox hunters in Ward 9 who filed a complaint at the meeting against the proposed banning of the fox hound from the woods.

In other announcements, Gene Ritchey won a new automatic shotgun for killing the biggest mallard in the unit's duck contest. The duck weighed 4 lb., 2 oz.

A motion was passed to send the unit's board of directors to the convention next month in Shreveport. Sportsmen were urged to attend the convention.

Another motion was passed to ask the Ouachita parish Police Jury to investigate what game agent William Oxley declared as a "difficult situation" near Whitam Brake.

Oxley explained that the Ouachita-Morehouse parish line in the Wham Brake vicinity is not clearly defined in the woods and that in some cases hunters are in violation of hunting regulations, es-

Soviet Urges Stassen On In Disarm Quest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Georgi Zarubin, Russia's departing ambassador, is reported to have urged Harold Stassen to continue working for a disarmament agreement.

The meeting between the two men—a secret until yesterday— took place Jan. 15 at the State Department, and was said to have been requested by the Soviet envoy. Stassen is the administration's disarmament adviser.

Informed sources said Zarubin's discussion with Stassen apparently reflected continued Soviet interest in some sort of limited arms reduction agreement.

Stassen is said to have pressed the Russian for a favorable reply to President Eisenhower's Jan. 12 letter to Soviet Premier Bulganin. The President indicated in that message a willingness to attend an East-West summit conference if preparatory talks on a lower level resulted in real progress on major issues.

Reports that Zarubin invited Stassen to visit the Soviet were denied by the sources disclosing the conversation.

Zarubin left Washington yesterday after five years as Soviet envoy here. He planned to leave New York by ship today.

Zarubin's visit with Stassen—reportedly approved by Secretary of State Dulles—came as Stassen was making a behind-the-scenes effort to get U.S. disarmament policy "liberalized."

pecially during the deer season. Fish biologist Jim Davis reported that members of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries staffs are checking Cheniere Lake for pollution content.

The local unit has asked the Wild Life and Fisheries to purchase Cheniere. Biologist Joe L. Herring said deer releases are continuing in the Ouachita area.

The following recommendations for hunting seasons were passed and will be presented at the federation convention:

Quail—Nov. 27 - Feb. 20, bag limit of 10; Squirrel—Oct. 1 - Jan. 4, bag limit, 10; Deer—recommendations to be made when setting deer seasons and that all areas open on Dec. 1st and continue straight through according to the number of days suggested: Rabbit—Nov. 15 - Feb. 20, bag limit, 10; Bear, closed; Doves—Sept. 1 - Sept. 15, Nov. 27 - Jan. 11, bag limit, 10; waterfowl, dates to be set as late as possible in the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service framework, allowing one wood-duck, bag limit, 6; Woodcock and Snipe—Dec. 13 - Jan. 18.

Education Bill Denounced By Rep. Gwinn

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Gwinn of New York, top Republican on the House Education Committee, today denounced President Eisenhower's education bill as a political scheme to get votes.

"The audacity of this bill is astounding," Gwinn said. "Its real title should be the 'teacher pay bill of 1958, and its vote-getting possibilities."

Gwinn's statement, prepared for House delivery, gave added impact to predictions by Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, the GOP leader, that a school bill will have trouble getting through the House this year.

Gwinn, a long-time foe of federal aid to education, last year helped kill a 1½-billion-dollar school construction bill.

Eisenhower asked Congress Tuesday for a Sputnik-age schooling program aimed largely at stepping up science education. He requested a four-year, billion-dollar program of federal support in such items as scholarships, teachers' salaries, fellowships and language training. Matching funds by the states would come to about 600 million dollars.

Gwinn said the federal scholarship plan "is nothing more than a smoke-screen" because he said more than 75 per cent of the funds would go into salaries, for high school math and science teachers.

Sack Fashion Discarded By Paris Rebel

PARIS (UP)—Jean Desses today gave every man what he wanted: A woman who looks like a goddess.

And he did it by making her look like a woman.

He was the first Paris designer of the 1958 season to put waists and hips and busts in the place nature meant them to be. And in doing so he was the first to pay his respects to the man who foots the dress bills.

Desses said in introducing his collection that he was discarding the sack because it is "despised by every man."

He stuck by his word. A handsome series of ensembles was first down the runway, the coats and dresses were made for each other. The low-slung "mid-dy" style hipline of a pink shirt-tung dress was carried out by low belt of its navy blue coat.

When tapered coats were cinched at the waist their dresses had gracefully draped waistlines. When coats ballooned they did so gracefully. When they fell straight from the shoulder they had pockets or belts below the hips to give them form.

Mothers Leave China For Home

HONG KONG (AP)—Three American mothers who spent three weeks in Red China with their prisoner sons left for the United States today.

The mothers are Mrs. Jessie Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., Mrs. Mary Downey of New Britain, Conn., and Mrs. Ruth Redmond of Mrs. Downey's son William, 25, they are flying home via Manila and Honolulu.

The mothers made no statement before leaving. Red China's Premier Chou En-lai turned down a plea to release their sons but a spokesman held out hope for clemency, if the prisoners "behave well."

2 Men Admit Assault, Battery

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—Two men today faced assault and battery charges in connection with the crowbar beating of Victor Townsend, a night club employee.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Hughes said Robert Frank, 29, Dover, N. J., and R. J. Harris, 38, Meridian, admitted the charges yesterday.

Hughes said the men also admitted stealing an auto in Harvey, La., and failing to pay for gasoline at a Wynot service station. The deputy sheriff quoted the men as saying the auto was wrecked near Rose Hill and they were taken to a clinic in Bay Springs for treatment.

The men said they fled from Bay Springs after hearing patrolmen were looking for them. The men were picked up near Newton and taken to the county jail here.

Physics Course Offered On TV; Starts Monday

A program of education via television will get its initial boost here Monday when a complete introductory physics course will be given over educational station KLSB-TV, Channel 13.

State Superintendent of Schools Shelby M. Jackson made the announcement yesterday. He said arrangements have been made with W. W. Ward, parish school superintendent, and Van Odom, city school superintendent, for the course to be televised to the classrooms each week day from 1:15 p.m. to 1:45 p.m.

Students participating will get high school credit for the course. The public is invited to tune in for the lessons at 7:30 p.m. for non-credit listening.

Gordon Canterbury, station manager of KLSB-TV, said there will be 162 lessons shown over Channel 13. Subjects will range from "Properties of Matter" to "Nuclear Physics," he explained.

Both school superintendents commented favorably on the program, stressing that it will increase interest in the study of physics and serve as a teaching aid to supplement regular courses.

Science teachers and principals of each high school will meet with Canterbury Saturday to work out final plans for showing the films.

Inflation Hits Scout Program, Green Declares

The president of the Ouachita Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America stressed the necessity for including the effects of inflation in organizational budgets at a meeting here last night.

Dr. Marvin T. Green of Ruston, president of the 15 parish council, emphasized the need for "push" during the year and noted that $48 thousand will be needed to do the same job $45 thousand did last year.

Jack E. Pankey of Monroe, Council executive, outlined the ten test goals of the council, and pointed out how each division incorporated in scouting could be improved in the Ouachita Valley.

Delegates Give Reports
Delegates from districts gave reports on accomplishments and the goals that are being aimed for this year.

District reports were given by Bob Coleman, Southeast; Robert Sims, Northeast; Baxter Deal, Eastern; James Stevens, Midland; Floyd Main, Southwest and Fred Fudickar Jr., Central.

Following a meeting of operating committees, Dr. R. T. Armstrong, head of the health and safety committee, announced that a Safety Good Turn program will be kicked off next week.

He listed three major divisions in which safety will be practiced by scouts: (1) traffic safety (2) home safety and (3) outdoor safety.

Special Recognition
Special recognition was given James B. Bradley Jr. of West Monroe for his work as official auditor for the Ouachita Valley Council. He was awarded a certificate in appreciation by Council President Green.

Travis Chevallier of West Monroe, explained a "world friendship fund" program, pointing out that it is a plan whereby scouts from other countries are helped to obtain scouting equipment.

It also provides for outstanding scouts to come to America to get a first-hand look at scouting in the U.S.A.

Court of Honor
President Green announced that an Eagle Scout court of honor program will be presented over television here Sunday, Feb. 9, at 1 p.m.
